FIRST EDITION.

POLITICAL NOTES.

General Butler, in reply to a letter from John B. Alley, asking him his purposes and views with regard to the next Governorship of Massachusetts, says: "In view of the importance of the national contest, I shall not allow my name to be used in the canvass for Governor, nor in any manner to the detriment of the Republican cause."

Senator Sumner was in New York yesterday en route to Boston, and visited the Liberal headquarters. He declined to speak there, his health being anything but good. He has not promised to speak in Boston, his tour being merely for health. He will probably be unable to speak in Maine.

It is stated that Gen. Hillyer announces his determination to accept the wager of ten thousand dollars offered in the New York Daily News that Greeley will be elected, and will also wager the value of a house and lot in Harlem—two to one—on Grant.

It is understood that Edmund Baxter will yield to the call upon him and become a candidate for Governor of Tennessee, against John C. Brown, the Democratic nominee. Both served in the rebel army, Brown as a General and Baxter as a Captain. Baxter, since the war, has been Liberal in his views, and is a supporter of Greeley. He is brought into the field by the Liberals, who do not like the present position of affairs, believing that the Democrats are not disposed to deal fairly with them. Governor Brown is for Greeley, and favors maintaining the Democratic organization. He also has been Liberal in his views. With Brown and Baxter as the candidates, the canvass will be lively. Both are able men and adroit speakers.

The New York Democratic State Central Committee met in Saratoga yesterday, and resolved to hold the State Convention at Syracuse on the 4th of September next. The vacancies in the committee from the First Judicial District were filled by the choice of John Kelly and Jas. S. Thayer. General Cochrane and Alfred Wilkinson, Chairman and Secretary of the Liberal Republican State Committee, were present, and concurred in the above mentioned time and place for their State Convention.

A call has been issued, signed by Wm. Dean, recently chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee of Delaware, for the election of delegates to represent the State in the Louisville Convention. Mr. Dean has also organized a straight-out Democratic club, and a large number of Democrats, it is claimed, are ready to join it.

A large audience assembled last evening in Worcester, Massachusetts, to hear Hon. George F. Hoar on the issues of the present campaign. He spoke admirably, and with great effect for nearly two hours. After a brief review of the record of the Republican party, he presented a contrast of the candidates for President and Vice President, greatly to the advantage of Grant and Wilson. A portion of his speech was devoted to a sharp and searching review of some of the recent utterances of Sumner, of whom, nevertheless, he spoke kindly.

Two very large and enthusiastic political meetings were held in Indianapolis last night. The Republicans assembled at the wigwam, being addressed by Gen. John H. Harlan, of Kentucky, and the Democrats by Hon. Carl Schurz, at the State House.

Notwithstanding the great demonstrations of both parties in Terre Haute, Ind., on Monday night, the political excitement continues unabated. Colonel R. W. Thompson last evening addressed a very large crowd at the Republican wigwam.

The Republican Convention of the Third District of Michigan yesterday nominated Hon. George Willard, of Calhoun county, for Congress.

General Logan addressed a Republican meeting at the Court House in Cairo last night. The attendance was large, many being unable to gain admission.

Emerson Ethridge, in a letter to the Memphis Avalanche, comes out in favor of Horace Greeley.

Hon. Wm. D. Kelley addressed a large Grant meeting in San Francisco last evening.

Harvey Myers was yesterday nominated for Congress at the Republican Convention of the Sixth Kentucky district, held at Covington. Mr. Myers is a law partner of Senator Stevenson. He will have two opponents, both Democrats, who will divide the vote against him.

A Lowell (Mass.) dispatch says that General Butler and Secretary Boutwell addressed a political meeting in that city last Monday evening.

It is expected that the political discussion between the colored men, Saunders (Greeley) and Garnett (Grant), will take place on Thursday evening. A challenge has been sent by Saunders to Rev. W. F. Butler (Grant), colored, inviting him to meet his colleague, George H. Hatten (Greeley), in a like manner.

The Executive Committee of the New York German Central Greeley Association organized on Monday. Mr. Anthony Eickhoff, of the New Yorker Journal, was elected President.

Senator Wilson returned to New York on Monday from Indiana. He says he was surprised at the political enthusiastic earnestness which he had seen in the West.

The St. Louis Republican publishes a letter from Gratz Brown, addressed to Governor English, of Connecticut, in which he alleges that a certain statement, so far as it relates to himself, is very erroneous, and so far as it implies that his habits are intemperate, is unwarranted.

There are three Welsh weekly papers published in the United States—the Drych, published at Utica, New York (which has always claimed to be independent in politics); Baner America, published at Scranton, Pennsylvania, which has waved the Republican flag at its masthead since its first issue, and the Negesydd, published at Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. All are now laboring for the re-election of "the man who whaled and not for the man who bailed Jeff Davis."

The Republicans of Fayette county, Kentucky, elected their ticket at the election last Monday week by 280 majority. The Lexington Gazette (Greeley), commenting on the result, says:

> "The election demonstrates that the negroes are more numerous than the white voters, and that they have arrayed themselves in a solid body against their former masters and present employers. This shows the necessity of securing some other labor which will not array itself in hostility to the owners of the soil and the payers of taxes. Negroes will soon lose their importance, and with the outgoing of Grant will out-go likewise the political consequence of Mr. Nigger. Except for the local inconvenience, and this can be corrected in several ways, we are glad that the darkies have put themselves in antagonism to the Greeley ticket, for it needed this ingratitude to cure the old Abolitionist of his fanaticism. Strip him of this, and the way the negroes have turned their backs on their first and fastest friend, will do it, if anything in the world can, tear the scales from his eyes, and we firmly believe that he will make one of the best Presidents that has ever occupied the place."

The spirit of this is respectfully submitted to the Hon. Charles Sumner for his most prayerful consideration.

Henry Ward Beecher, who can use as strong language as any man, does not like the way the campaign is conducted. He says in the Christian Union: "The prospects are that the first Presidential canvass for twenty years which offers no justification or occasion for bitterness of feeling, will be one of the most bitter and personal of all."

Hon. Galusha A. Grow is out in a letter for Greeley. Galusha is railroading in Texas.

The Republican journals come laden with the recantations and indignant withdrawals from Greeley clubs, of persons who signed, unwarily, or were inveigled by some false pretence. The Liberal Republicans have helped themselves very liberally indeed to names to which they had no right. The proper owners are reclaiming their stolen property.

Clasping hands across the bloody chasm is not to be confined to the Greeleyites. The Union soldiers and sailors of Maryland, at a meeting held in Baltimore Tuesday evening last, to arrange for attending the convention of veterans at Pittsburgh next month, passed a resolution extending the hand of political fellowship to Confederate soldiers who fought against them, exacting no conditions except a support of Grant and Wilson. That was showing a true fraternal spirit.

The annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Equal Rights League will be held in Harrisburg on the 20th of August, and it is expected that there will be a very large attendance. The sessions of the League will be held at the State Capitol, and excursion tickets will be issued over the Pennsylvania, Philadelphia and Erie, and other roads.

E. M. Chamberlain, Chairman of the New York Labor Conference, has postponed until further notice the Labor Reform Convention that was to have been held in Philadelphia on the 22d inst., the National Executive Committee of the Labor party having called a convention to meet at Columbus, August 21.

Senator Morton replies to the charge that he too once left the Democratic party by saying that the departure took place nearly twenty years ago, and that the statute of limitations begins to apply to his favor. He further says that he left the Democratic party on account of its treasonable future, and has no occasion to "forget the past" of the party to which he belonged. The records of one Democratic party closed in 1854: those of the one to be forgotten have been written since in blood.

ENON VALLEY.

The Crops Generally Good—Business of Enon—Political Matters—Lawrence County Good for its Usual Majority—Legislative Candidates.

[Correspondence Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ENON VALLEY, August 10, 1872.

A few words from this section of Western Pennsylvania may not be considered out of place by the readers of your paper, of which there is a large number in this vicinity.

THE CROPS.

The majority of farmers have completed their harvest labors for this year. The crops were generally pretty good, although the hay in some localities was rather light, owing to the dry weather in the early part of the summer. A portion of the wheat crop was slightly damaged in the shock during the continued wet weather in the latter part of July.

The prospect is favorable for an excellent crop of corn, so that farmers have abundant reason to consider themselves amply rewarded for their labors the present season.

ENON FLOURISHING.

The town of Enon still retains its usual business appearance. It is fully supplied with the several varieties of stores, mills and shops. The mechanical pursuits are well represented by skillful and industrious workmen.

POLITICAL MOVEMENTS.

Political matters are rather quiet yet in this community. The Liberal movement receives the approval of a very few Republicans in this county, while many Democrats express themselves as having no sympathy for the "Abolitionist" Greeley, or the ticket nominated by the office-seekers' convention at Cincinnati and endorsed at Baltimore by the penitent Democracy. In some townships of the county, having a Republican majority, not a single Republican is in favor of the so-called reform movement inaugurated at Cincinnati by disappointed politicians. The Republican nominees on the county ticket will no doubt be elected by the usual majority. The ticket is a good one, and deserves the support of every Republican voter in the county.

CONVENTION AND LEGISLATIVE CANDIDATES.

D. Craig, Esq., a leading member of the bar, and a well-known lawyer of New Castle, is one of the nominees in the district for delegate to the Constitutional Convention.

Hon. Samuel McKinley, a former Representative of Lawrence county, is the nominee of this district for State Senator; and Mr. G. W. McCracken, editor of the Lawrence Guardian, also a former member of the Legislature, is the nominee of the county for Assembly. The Guardian, although only established two years ago, is now one of the best papers published in the county. Mr. McCracken, its present editor, is well qualified to represent the interests of his district in the Legislature of the State. In one township of the county a slight personal dissatisfaction exists in regard to the defeat of one of his opponents at the primary convention, yet it is conceded by all that no blame whatever can be attached to him, and as he has challenged investigation into the matter, it will serve to increase instead of diminish the large majority by which he was nominated.

Capt. William McClelland, present M. C. from this district and a resident of Lawrence county, may now be considered the Democratic candidate for re-election.

UNIONTOWN.

Health of the Borough—Politics Quiet—Democrats Waiting for the Louisville Convention—Personal.

[Correspondence Pittsburgh Gazette.]

UNIONTOWN, PA., August 12, 1872.

HEALTH AND WEATHER.

Our old town remains in statu quo. The dysentery has not been subdued; many more complain of diseases of the same nature. We had a refreshing shower on Saturday evening, and another yesterday. The days are nearly as warm as any we have had this season, but the nights are comparatively pleasant.

POLITICS QUIET.

Politics are rather quiet, nearly all the discussions being between old members of the defunct Democratic party and, if possible, in the absence of Republicans. We hear them saying to each other that things are badly mixed, and they don't know how it will end. Some, from the country, want the leaders to come out boldly, one way or the other, and they will then follow, but say they do not want to make the start themselves. The larger portion of them, having very large capacities for swallowing most everything, will take Greeley and Brown straight or mixed—"anything to beat Grant." Some are patiently waiting the result of the Louisville Convention. Having had a good thing in all the county offices, they will try hard to keep together and preserve their organization.

VISITORS TO THE MOUNTAINS.

There are many strangers passing through town to and from the mountains. The wife and family of Dr. O. E. Newton, of Cincinnati, Ohio, have been spending the hot season in this place, with her father, Major Clark Breading.

Mr. John Ritenour, of the Leader, has been visiting his mother in this place during his vacation. John is a pleasant little gentleman, and a good fellow, and we wish him success.

Two of the sons of Alex Miller, Esq., of Pittsburgh, are visiting their numerous relations in and about town.

The report that Hon. S. A. Gilmore, on a visit to his daughter in Minnesota, is stumping the State for Greeley, is not credited here, as he has frequently expressed himself as decidedly opposed to him and said that he (Greeley) was a perfect fiend. However, the report may be true, as many of the Dem-Liberal crats have made as many changes and swallowed some hard expressions heretofore made against the old abolitionist, Greeley. Requiescat in peace.

WAYNESBURG.

Ordination Services.

[Correspondence Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WAYNESBURG, August 8, 1872.

Rev. M. L. Gordon, of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, was on the 6th inst. ordained to the whole work of the ministry, and consecrated to the work of Foreign Missions in the Cumberland Presbyterian Church at Waynesburg, Pa. Mr. Gordon was born in Waynesburg, reared and educated in our midst, served some three years in the Union army during the late war, where he acquitted himself as a gentleman and a patriot. The war over, he returned home, and soon thereafter made a profession of religion and united with the church. He entered Waynesburg College, where he continued until he completed a full course in the literary and scientific departments, and graduated with honors. He then went to Andover Theological Seminary and completed a full course in that institution and then graduated with honors, after which he spent one year in a medical college in New York City. All these studies and labor have been performed with an eye to the foreign missionary work. The ordination sermon was preached by Rev. A. B. Miller, D. D., from Acts, 22d chapter and 21st verse: "And he said unto me, depart; for I will send thee far hence unto the Gentiles."

After the laying on of the hand of the presbytery and prayer, the Rev. E. K. Squier, of Pittsburgh, delivered an eloquent, impressive and solemn charge to the newly-ordained minister, when he was duly consecrated to the work of Foreign Missions.

Mr. Gordon and wife will start for their field of labor at Cabe, in Japan, to-morrow morning. They will go by the way of San Francisco, and will sail thence on the 31st of this month.

Mr. G. goes as a missionary under the patronage and support of the Synod of Pennsylvania of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church. He goes under the appointment and direction of the American Board for Foreign Missions.

The audience was very large, and all the services were deeply solemn and impressive.

A PRESIDENT ASSASSINATED.

The President of Peru Murdered Just Before His Office Expires.

Colonel Balta, late President of Peru, who has been assassinated, and whose murderer in return has suffered a violent death himself, came to power through a revolutionary movement which he had created. In December, 1867, in conjunction with General Causeco, he rose in insurrection against President Prado, who had just been elected for a term of four years. President Prado was compelled to resign, and Colonel Balta was proclaimed President. In 1871 two attempts at revolution were made. In May the leaders of a plot endeavored to seize the Peruvian iron-clads; they failed, and took refuge on board a United States man-of-war. On the 16th of August his opponents again made an attempt to overthrow his Government. Their intention was to surprise the palace and make the President a prisoner, and they expected that some of the Government forces would join in the movement. President Balta, however, received timely notice, and the conspirators failed and were arrested. During that year his administration was distinguished by many severe and probably illegal measures. Up to the date of the last mails he continued to prosecute editors of journals hostile to his administration. His assassination is probably owing to the fact that he had interfered in an unusual manner to secure the election of Senor Prado, now President of State. After the vote for electors had actually been cast, and when it was probable Prado had no chance of election, Colonel Balta published a letter urging upon the electors the choice of Prado, and otherwise exerted his influence to secure this result, in consequence of a political bargain. The Constitutional term of office of Colonel Balta was to have expired in one week.

Hamilton Branch of C. & T. H.

CINCINNATI, August 13.—A certificate of incorporation of the Hamilton branch of the Cincinnati and Terre Haute railroad was filed with the County Recorder to-day. The road runs from Loveland through Hamilton and Butler counties, passing through the city of Hamilton and connecting with the main road at Harrison. The capital stock is a million and a half dollars.

A MAGNIFICENT SWINDLE.

A Sketch of an Operator by the Millions of Pounds.

Brief History of Henry Davidson—He Robs His Employers of $600,000, Goes Into Business and Forgery, Fails for $4,000,000, Absconds, is Caught, and Blows His Brains Out.

Henry Davidson, the son of a retired army agent, received an excellent education, and after having graduated at King's College, in London, obtained a situation as assistant bookkeeper in the firm of S. W. Silver & Company, of Cornhill, in that city. After the lapse of two years, the senior bookkeeper, George H. Pix, died, and Davidson became the principal bookkeeper of the firm.

The cash receipts of the house averaged five hundred pounds a day. The books were kept by single entry. He was assistant cashier as well as bookkeeper. When the customers called in to pay their accounts, in the absence of the cashier, Davidson received the money. Instead of entering it in the cash book, he often credited the customer in the ledger with the amount and put the money in his pocket. His abstractions averaged fifty pounds a day, and at the end of eight years he had stolen from the firm one hundred and twenty thousand pounds. The amount he had carefully invested in consols from time to time, so that in 1869, with the interest that had accumulated thereon, he was worth seven hundred and fifty thousand pounds. He decided to remain with the firm for twelve months without abstracting any amount whatever, in order that he might cover up his tracks if it became necessary.

Fortune favored him, and no suspicion rested on his honesty. He lived in a very quiet manner, and no ostentatious extravagance was detected in his habits. In the spring of 1870 he resigned his situation, and entered into partnership with a friend of his, named Gordon, who had previously been an attorney in the city, but then retired from the practice of the law. They established themselves in Lombard street, as general merchants, shipping goods on a gigantic scale to all parts of the world. Their speculations of iron were enormous, and in one month, owing to a great decline in the value of pig iron, they lost £100,000.

In the London money market warrants pass as readily as greenbacks with us. Davidson got blank warrants printed, and filling them up with 10,000 tons of iron, which they were supposed to represent, and which were, according to the warrants, lying on the London wharves, he proceeded to Messrs. Barrett, Hoare & Co., the bankers of Butcher Lane, and obtained £20,000 on them. The £20,000 was duly paid into the hands of Davidson & Gordon, and was speedily swallowed up in meeting their acceptances as they fell due. From Smith, Payne & Smithy; Barclay, Bevan, Tritton & Co.; Roger Cunliffe, and the London Discount Company, Davidson obtained over $1,000,000 on forged warrants. Roger Cunliffe, rather shrewder than some of the London bankers, having noticed an extraordinary amount of Davidson & Gordon's acceptances offered for discount, began to examine his securities. He sent a clerk to the various wharves where the iron represented on the warrants was supposed to be lying. The clerk reported that there was no iron lying at any of the wharves. In fact, the warrants were forgeries. The clerk then interviewed the wharfagers whose names were attached to the warrants, and, although the signatures were not genuine, they were exceedingly well imitated.

Roger Cunliffe, who is a Quaker, being a creditor for over £100,000 on forged warrants, did not deem it advisable to act in a hasty manner. He called the clerk into his private office, and enjoined on him the most absolute secrecy as to what he knew of the affair, and made him a present of £50. Mr. Cunliffe addressed a note to Mr. Davidson, requesting him to call at his office at eight o'clock in the evening, a very unusual hour for a London broker, as he wished a private interview with him on matters of the highest importance. On receipt of the note Davidson was well aware that some discoveries had been made, but he put a bold front on it. Davidson knew that Roger Cunliffe was likely to look at the matter in a business point of view. It would not answer Cunliffe's interests to prosecute Davidson and lose £100,000. At eight o'clock in the evening on the 8th of May, 1871, Davidson was admitted to the private office of Cunliffe, in Lombard street. He told Davidson that he held him responsible for all the transactions that Davidson & Gordon had with his firm, for he regarded Mr. Gordon as a mere figure head. He went on to tell him that he had robbed him of £100,000, and that he could send him into penal servitude for life, but that he did not purpose to do this, provided that he acted under his instructions, and liquidated the debt he owed him. The prospect of being sent into penal servitude for life was not very agreeable to Davidson, and he listened attentively to Cunliffe's proposal.

It was arranged that Cunliffe should advance £100,000 more, to make up the forged warrants that the other bankers held; that Cunliffe should be the reference for Davidson's firm; that he would give such a reference as would assure unlimited credit; that they should purchase in London, Manchester, Glasgow, and Birmingham £1,000,000, and consign the same to New York, Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay, taking advances of two-thirds of the invoice price; that the £200,000 which the firm would owe Roger Cunliffe, as soon as he had advanced him the further sum of £100,000 (which he did advance on the ensuing day) should be repaid out of the advances which Davidson's firm would obtain from the merchants taking charge of the consignments. Davidson & Gordon acted on these instructions, purchasing goods to an enormous amount, and taking advances from various London merchants to the extent of £750,000. They paid Roger Cunliffe £20,000, leaving him a creditor to the extent of £180,000. In January of this year they suspended payment, with liability amounting to £800,000.

That very day Mr. Gordon threw himself into the Regent's canal, and his body was not recovered until two weeks afterward. But Henry Davidson was not so easily frightened. With £20,000 in his pocket, he went to Havre, and embarked on board the Ville de Paris for New York. He stayed at the Grand Central Hotel for about a month, when he thought himself shadowed by a detective. He had become acquainted with a lady of extreme beauty, by the name of Thompson, and he was in the habit of taking long walks with her. The man he thought was a detective shadowing his path was a lover of the widow. He got alarmed and took passage on the Hermann for Bremen. From Bremen he went to Dieppe, where unfortunately for himself he was met by Roger Cunliffe's son. He had Davidson arrested as an absconding bankrupt, and he was placed on the cars for Rouen, his left arm being handcuffed to the gendarme. About six miles from Dieppe, as he was passing through a tunnel, he drew a Colt's revolver from his breast pocket, and placing it to his forhead, fired three shots. His body was taken to London and buried at Highgate Cemetery.

APPEAL TO COLORED VOTERS.

A Stirring Address to the Men of his Race by Fred. Douglass.

WASHINGTON, Friday, August 9, 1872.

Colored Fellow-Citizens:

In view of the insidious and dangerous advice and counsel of Mr. Sumner, I think it is my duty to set forth a few urgent reasons why we, as a race and as fellow-citizens, all bound up in the same interest, cannot and should not vote for Greeley and Brown, but that to a man, we should cast our whole weight into the scale for Grant and Wilson.

First—We in the South have been liberated from slavery by the direct agency of the Republican party. Had Greeley been President instead of Lincoln, we would to-day have been in a worse bondage under the Slave Republic of the Southern Confederate States than ever before. Greeley advocated this policy and did his best to establish the Republic of which slavery was to be the chief corner-stone.

Second—Our first vote was cast as freedmen for Grant in 1868. Have we been disappointed in the result of his administration? Previous to that period you had no vote. Now we have equal rights (or almost equal rights) with the white race. We can accumulate property as well as they do; we have the law's protection over us as they have; our marital relations respected; our wives and children are our own and not the property of others; we can testify in every Court; we have the right if we have the power to have our brethren elected to the Senate and Congress of our country; we are a power that is felt; we hold the balance of power in America; no corrupt or vacillating man can be elected to the Presidential chair unless we consent to vote for him.

Third—All this has occurred since '65, and chiefly since we cast our vote for Grant in '68. Are we prepared to risk the abandonment of these great privileges and blessings, and vote for a man who thinks that any State may withdraw from the Union when she sees fit? Are we prepared to vote for the nominees of the Democratic party, whose hearts have never changed towards us, who kept us in slavery as long as they had the power, and who if they had the power again would (to say the least of it) do their very utmost to restrict our liberties and oppress us as of old. Mr. Sumner may deceive himself; he cannot deceive us; or, to use the language of the gentleman, Mr James R. Doolittle, Chairman of the Convention which nominated Mr. Greeley, one of the objects of the nomination being the "overthrow of negro supremacy." And forsooth, what is this supremacy they so much wish to overthrow? It is simply the cancellation of those privileges and blessings enumerated in clause second. We have no supremacy, nor never expect to have, nor intend to try for.

Fourth—In conclusion: Be not deceived! With Grant, our security is unquestionable; our happiness will be made lasting. With Greeley, we would enter upon a sea of trouble—an unknown and anxious future. Unscrupulous advisers would be his friends. Our old foes would surround him, as they even do now; and even if a few staunch friends should endeavor to stem the coming troubles they would be swept away with the torrent, and the great work of the Republican party prove an abortion. It cannot be that we will send one vote out of our entire midst to help bring about such dire results, and I pray God that, when the time comes, every man of our race will be found true to the cause of human rights to all.

FRED'K DOUGLASS.

THE FINANCIAL TEST.

General Grant Judged by the Highest Test of Administration.

GENERAL GARFIELD, OF OHIO, ON VINDICATION OF THE REPUBLICAN PARTY.

General Garfield, of Ohio, the distinguished Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations of the National House of Representatives, has been claimed by the Greeleyites as in sympathy with their movement. To what extent this is correct, General Garfield showed by a speech in Leavenworth, on the 7th inst., from which we make a few extracts:

THE GREAT TEST OF ADMINISTRATION.

The greatest test of administration, said General Garfield, is the financial test. Our Government is a great machine, and every turn costs money. Take your stand at the Treasury door, and I challenge you to say aught against the system. In 1866 the taxes collected were $590,000,000. Since then taxes are reduced $310,000,000 by eight bills in six years. Since Grant has been President the expenses have been reduced over $100,000,000. Not only have the burdens been reduced, and the expenditures been reduced, but the debt has been reduced. I am here to tell you that since Grant was inaugurated no month has passed but a reduction of millions has taken place, amounting up to this month to a total of $340,000. The annual interest is now reduced $18,000,000. Can you find a stronger test than this? Where is the room for any great rascality where such results are found? When Grant came in the credit of the United States was not so good as Massachusetts by twenty-one cents on the dollar. Why? Because in Massachusetts there were not enough Democrats to get up a respectable repudiation. Yet from the day Grant was elected the credit of the United States has been steadily, steadily, steadily rising. The day he was elected the credit of the nation rose 3 per cent., and to-day the currency is worth twenty-two cents more on the dollar than when he took hold of the finances. This shows that the laboring man gets twenty-two cents more on the dollar more for his labor. After this resume, dare you trust even Horace Greeley with his peculiar notions? Some one winks that he dare. Do you think that you can leaven that sour lump of Democracy? Then indeed the day of miracles has come again.

FITNESS OF CANDIDATES.

What is the fitness of the candidates? Is Greeley's the kind of mind to entrust with government? It needs a man that thinks prudently, wisely and steadily. I ask you if he has held on any three topics the same position during ten years? His vagaries during the war are known to every one. He threw his weight against the renomination of Lincoln. He tried to patch up a peace in the midst of grim war by interviewing irresponsible adventurers at Niagara. Is this the man of steady impulses? Is this a fit occupant for the Presidential chair?

His opinions on resumption are well known. He cries the best way to resume is to resume, while we have only $50,000,000 to meet the outstanding greenbacks.

On protection he is equally absurd. * * *

Taking these and other arguments, I am constrained to say, that in Grant is safety and in Greeley non-safety.

WHERE ARE THE FRAUDS?

Where are the frauds? (Some one says, New York Custom House.) Let us see. During the administration of General Grant $218,000,000 of duties in gold were collected, nine-tenths in New York, and at less cost than ever before. The Republican party is as anxious as any for reform. Show them the place and they will throw the whole Drummond light of reform on them. Some of you go to the Democratic party to purify your own. Go to the Democratic party with headquarters—where? In Tammany Hall, where lies entrenched the greatest frauds of the day. There is no impudence in Christendom like your impudence in claiming that you go to such a party for reform.

THE OLD SLAVERY FIGHT OVER AGAIN.

It is the old fight: the slavery fight. The old minority contest. Dare any one lead one of these newly enfranchised citizens into the Democratic camp and tell him that with it there is peace and security for his rights? A colored man says he can't see it; yet Charles Sumner thinks he can see it. [Laughter.] It's the same old party that confronted us in 1864. They are the men that resisted the war; that forgot to be glad when our arms triumphed, and forgot to be sad when they wavered. If any doubt has come over the soldiers as how to vote, I'll tell you how to learn. Ask your Springfield musket how it voted. Put it to your ear and it will tell you that every shot voted against the rebel Democracy. Then follow its advice and you will not go amiss.

A LAST SHOT AT THE REBELLION.

I will never forget the soldiers voting in the Ohio regiments after the battle of Chicamauga. Twenty-five hundred loyal Ohio voters lay dead in the field. Their place was filled by twenty-five hundred stay-at-home Democrats. The ballot-boxes were taken to the hospitals, where thousands lay wounded. A ballot for Vallandigham and one for Johnny Brough lay before each man. A dying soldier picked up one for Brough, and as he laid it on the box said, "I'll take my last shot at the rebellion." We carried him and scores of others out to the trenches that night. Who can forget such a scene? Yet it seems as if these events have left the memory of our Greeley friends. There is only one argument to the Democrats—we fought the rebellion, you fought us.

THE FRENCH LOAN.

The Announcement of its Success in the French Assembly.

In the French National Assembly, July 30, M. Goulard communicated the result of the subscriptions to the loan, stating that they amounted in capital to forty-one milliards, six hundred and forty-one millions, in rentes two milliards, four hundred and sixty-four millions. France has subscribed one milliard, thirty-seven millions of rentes, viz: Paris 790,886,000f, and the departments 246,400,000f. Foreign countries have subscribed 1,426,7790,000f. Thus the loan is covered more than twelve times, but the results of some of the subscriptions still remain to be known. M. Goulard expressed the stupefaction of the Government at the astounding result of the subscription. They were almost disposed to feel alarm, but without giving way to illusions, the Government, after reflection, felt they were justified in regarding with calmness and confidence the marvelous result of the subscription. "As to ourselves," adds M. Goulard, "we should err in manifesting vanity at this success. A nation like ours showing the faith she has in herself is justified in counting on the future. She has a right to consider the severe lesson she has received as an expiation of her faults and a surprise of fortune, but, thank Heaven, France is not condemned to see it a sign of decadence." The Minister said he felt it necessary to thank God for the protection accorded to France. [Applause from many parts of the Assembly.] God had given the country an abundant harvest, and had given the French patriotism. "Let us not forget that is is to France, pacific, laborious and just; to a conservative Republic, faithful to principles which are the eternal basis of civilized society, that our fellow-citizens and foreigners have given testimony of their absolute confidence. Despite our errors and misfortunes, the world has not ceased to believe in us, and does not doubt the destiny which is reserved for us by Providence."

AN ECCENTRIC MAN.

Death of a Queer Irishman of Great Attainments.

A recent number of the London Court Journal records the death of a very eccentric character, thus: "An Irishman died last week in London, whose career and attainments entitled him to a niche in the annals of literature. The deceased was about fifty years of age; was as odd a figure as one could meet in a day's ride. He was small, but firmly knit, generally wore a white hat and a dress coat, and always had an old volume under his arm. He was a confirmed bookworm; Mezzofta was hardly a more accomplished linguist. Mortimer was a graduate of the University of Dublin, and deeply versed in classic lore, but he added a polish to his erudition by his intimacy with at least a dozen modern tongues. He spoke French, German, Russian, Polish, Spanish, Italian, modern Greek, Turkish, Arabic, Irish, Welsh, and Danish with fluency. In his youth he had been a cabin boy in an American bark, and subsequently became a student in Paris, but had to leave it on account of his connection with the June insurrection of 1848. He was a very strong man, and utilized his strength in taking an engagement as a Hercules in a circus in Australia. By turns he gave lectures on Shakspeare through Germany, was a Greek professor at Hamburg, had a troupe of Spanish ballet dancers in Holland, and was a companion of Sir William Don, the baronet actor, in his wildest continental frolics. In his time he had been tutor to Charles Lever's children at Florence. He came to the surface one day in the employment of Tom Thumb, another in the company of Murphy, the Irish giant, who was a distant cousin. He had been in London since the Franco-Prussian war, which ruined him in fortune. His learning was of little profit to him, for he died very poor in a ward of a hospital, and is buried in a nameless grave of the paupers' corner of some overgrown cemetery."

The Barnard Impeachment Case.

SARATOGA, August 13.—In the Barnard impeachment case Mr. Stickney continued his argument for the prosecution.

Mr. Beach followed for the respondent, claiming that this Court had not only not been a proper legal court, but a political and prejudiced one, and saying no court in this State dare condemn him from political motives. He argued that no Judge should be deemed guilty of corruption simply because he had erred. The corrupt motive must be shown.

The counsel entered at length into a discussion of the specific charges, and had not concluded at the adjournment.

THE OLD WORLD.

The Alabama Claims.

Examining the Charge of Negligence on the Part of Great Britain—Emancipation of Slaves in Spanish Provinces—The East Coast Slave Trade—U. S. Steamer Wabash Aground.

GREAT BRITAIN.

EAST COAST SLAVE TRADE.

NEW YORK, August 13.—A special London dispatch says that the Times says, with regard to the reference in the Royal speech to the east coast slave trade, that it is the most significant part of the speech. We suppose it is not an error to connect this announcement with the recent discovery of Livingstone in the dispatches to the Foreign Office, brought by Stanley from the great traveler.

U. S. STEAMER WABASH AGROUND.

LONDON, August 13.—The United States steamer Wabash has been aground twice within the past few days. She got ashore the first time near Osborne, and was hauled off by the Shenandoah and Wachusett. On neither occasion did the ship receive serious damage.

SWITZERLAND.

THE ALABAMA CLAIMS.

NEW YORK, August 13.—A Geneva letter says that the American claims for damages by the privateer Alabama are for the sum of about seven millions. The English papers in the case, however, fix the damages at three millions, which, it is contended, is all that should be paid, if indeed any guilt is to be laid to the English at all.

GREAT BRITAIN'S NEGLIGENCE.

GENEVA, August 13.—The Board of Arbitration has not yet settled in the main the question whether the British Government used due diligence to prevent the escape of rebel cruisers. The court is engaged in examining successively the cases of these vessels, to ascertain how far the general charge of negligence on the part of Great Britain may hold good with regard to each. It is to assist in this investigation that Cohen has been summoned to Geneva, as his knowledge of the circumstances of each case is supposed to invest him with authority as an expert.

Lord Tenderden, Sir Roundell Palmer and Mr. Cushing return to Geneva to-night. The sitting to-morrow will probably be a protracted one and the proceedings of the greatest interest.

SPAIN.

EMANCIPATION OF SLAVES.

LONDON, August 13.—A special dispatch from Madrid to the Times says: King Amadeus has not, as reported, signed a decree providing for the gradual abolition of slavery in Cuba and Porto Rico. The document which he signed is simply a code of rules providing for the enforcement of a law passed by the Cortes in 1869, preparing for the emancipation of slaves in the Spanish colonies.

NEW YORK.

Yellow Fever Excitement—Threatening Demonstrations by 'Long-shore Men—The Bloomingdale Asylum Cases in Court—Indignation Meeting by Persons Interested in Claims Against Mexico.

NEW YORK, August 13, 1872.

YELLOW FEVER EXCITEMENT.

Some excitement was caused among the residents of Staten Island at the arrival, yesterday afternoon, of a Spanish war vessel with yellow fever on board. A strict quarantine is to be maintained, and it is hoped that the scourge will not reach the city.

It has been ascertained that twenty men on the ram Numancia are suffering from yellow fever, and the number of incipient cases is unknown. Six men died on the passage from Havana to this port, and a seventh died a few hours ago. The remaining sufferers will be removed to the hospital in the lower bay.

INDIGNATION MEETING.

A meeting was held at the Fifth Avenue Hotel last night, at which a large number of gentlemen largely interested in claims against the Mexican Government pending before the International American and Mexican Commission were present. The expression against the recent action of the Mexican Commissioner was very warm. The proceedings were concluded by selecting a gentleman well known in the legal and military circles to communicate with the authorities of the two Governments, with reference to a speedy settlement of the trouble between the Commissioners.

MUTINY.

The crew of the ship Henry mutinied last night in the harbor. The mate shot one man in the wrist, and the harbor police arrived in time to prevent the men from murdering the mate by arresting all of them and bringing them ashore.

THREATENING DEMONSTRATIONS BY 'LONG-SHORE MEN.

About four hundred discharged 'long-shore-men made threatening demonstrations around the docks of the German steamships in Hoboken yesterday, the cause being the filling of their places by others. Their strike had been a failure.

THE BLOOMINGDALE ASYLUM.

The Bloomingdale Asylum cases were again before Judge Barrett to-day, and Miss Drew, at her own request, was remanded by the Justice to the asylum until her friends are ready to remove her. The case of Miss McCabe went over till to-morrow.

MACE GONE TO BALTIMORE.

James Mace left this morning for Baltimore, accompanied by his trainer and seconds. It is said he and O'Baldwin are to meet in Philadelphia to decide upon the referee.

NEW COTTON.

The first bale of new Alabama cotton, classed middling, was sold at auction yesterday for thirty cents per pound.

CRIMINALITIES.

Fatally Shot.

WASHINGTON, August 13.—Samuel W. Cheeselau, of Maine, who had purchased an ice business in this city, was fatally shot yesterday afternoon by a desperado named Barney Wood, formerly in the ice business here. Wood was arrested after firing a shot from his carbine at Lieutenant Grassford, of the police, who made the arrest. The latter shot did not take effect.

ATTEMPT AT WHOLESALE POISONING.

NEW YORK, August 13.—A Greensboro (N. C.) dispatch says a negro named Jim Johnson was arrested there yesterday for attempting to poison a party of twenty-six, on the occasion of the commencement of Rev. Fontaine's Academy, at Reedsville, on the 6th instant. Johnson, to avenge himself for supposed grievances by Fontaine, poisoned the ice-cream which he had been directed to freeze, and the entire party of twenty-six, including many young ladies belonging to the elite of society, were subsequently seized with poisonous symptoms. No one has yet died, but the physicians say that several will not recover. When arrested Johnson called upon the negroes to rescue him. The community threaten to lynch him

AN ALLEGED POISONER ARRAIGNED.

ALEXANDRIA, VA., August 13.—A special dispatch from Leesburg, Va., says that Mrs. Lloyd, who was indicted before the County Court for the murder of her daughters by administering arsenic, was to-day arraigned and pleaded "Not guilty." A motion was made to remove the case to the Circuit Court, which was granted, and the witnesses gave their recognizances to appear on the third Monday in October next.

HORRIBLE OUTRAGE.

NEW YORK, August 13.—A Raleigh (North Carolina) dispatch says that on Saturday night a party of negroes called upon a white man named Hicks, and horribly mutilated his person. Two of the villains have been arrested.

MISAPPROPRIATION OF FUNDS.

NEW YORK, August 13.—James P. Lindsay was arrested and bailed in eleven thousand dollars, charged by the executors under the will of Professor Morse with misappropriation of funds.

BALTIMORE.

A Bruiser Come to Grief.

BALTIMORE, August 13.—Ned O'Baldwin, the prize fighter, was arrested this morning on a charge of intending to violate the law of this State by engaging in a prize fight. He was bailed in the sum of two thousand dollars not to act in any prize fight in Maryland for the next twelve months, and to keep the peace. Mace has not yet arrived.

ARRIVAL OF MACE.

Mace arrived here this afternoon on the train from Philadelphia. Knowing that a warrant was out for his arrest, he drove immediately from the depot to the Clerk's office of the Criminal Court and gave a similar bond to that of O'Baldwin not to violate the laws of the State by engaging as principal or second in any prize fight within its limit for twelve months. The steamer Massachusetts, chartered by O'Baldwin's friends, and the Cyrus P. Smith, chartered by Mace's friends, leave here at five o'clock to-morrow afternoon for the battle ground, which will be in Virginia. It is understood that the fight will come off at an early hour on Thursday morning.

THE CAMPAIGN.

Speech by Senator Morton, at Madison, Ind.

STORMY SESSION OF PINCHBECK'S LOUISIANA CONVENTION.

Failure of a Proposition to Fuse with the Liberals.

THE NOMINATION OF GRANT AND WILSON ENDORSED.

Farmer Greeley Counting the Chickens in the Shell.

THE STRAIGHT-OUT DEMOCRATS AT WORK.

Speech of Senator Morton in Madison, Indiana.

MADISON, IND., August 13.—The largest meeting of citizens ever held in this city since the war was held in the rink this afternoon. Senator O. P. Morton addressed six thousand people, as many as the rink would hold, for two hours and a half. He commenced with Greeley's secession articles in the Tribune in 1861, wherein he placed the right to secede upon higher grounds than any Southern man ever did; his sudden flap over to a fierce war-man, shouting "On to Richmond;" then Greeley as sudden turns to peace, demanding peace on any terms that could be effected; his trip to Canada and interviews with rebel emissaries; his proposition to divide the country and pay for slaves; as soon as Lee surrendered his army and Jeff Davis was captured how Greeley hurried to Richmond to bail the President of the Confederacy.

The speech was a complete epitome of the history of the country since the war, and a refutation of the huge falsehoods and misrepresentations of the administration and personal attacks upon President Grant. Morton's mind is like a printer's case—full of all sorts of typical matter well distributed.

W. W. Herrod, Republican candidate for Congress in the Third district, and C. H. Grosvenor, of Ohio, will address a meeting of the citizens to-night. The Tanner's Club, numbering 126 young men, who will cast their first vote for President in November, the Black Boys in Blue, and the Grant and Wilson Clubs, with torches, will march through the streets. The under ground swell has come out—Grant and Wilson on top and the Greeleyites under it. The political stars are bright. Indiana is safe for the Republican State and National ticket.

Pinchbeck's Louisiana Convention.

NEW ORLEANS, August 13.—The Pinchbeck Republican Convention had a stormy session last evening. Gen. Hugh J. Campbell spoke, favoring an alliance with the Liberals and endorsing Greeley, and stated that if the motion made to form the said alliance failed, he would withdraw. The proposition to fuse with the Liberals was lost by a vote of eighty-seven to one hundred and eighty, when Campbell, President of the Convention, with eighty-seven members, withdrew. Col. George W. Carter also declared for Greeley. Pinchbeck declared that a Republican Government in this State could only be had under the leadership of Grant.

ST. LOUIS, August 13.—A New Orleans special says: The Pinchbeck Convention met yesterday, with about three hundred present. The report of the Conference Committee with reference to the Custom House was agreed to. A resolution endorsing Grant and Wilson was offered, which was followed by a substitute endorsing Sumner's position and declaring for Greeley. A lengthy debate ensued, during which Pinchbeck and several others spoke in favor of Grant. Pinchbeck claimed that the political existence of the colored people of the South depends upon the defeat of the Democracy and the re-election of Grant. He declared his entire willingness to support the Custom House ticket. His speech produced a great sensation. Several speeches were also delivered in favor of Sumner. The Greeley substitute was tabled by a vote of two hundred to eighty, whereupon forty-six Greeleyites bolted and proceeded to the Senate Chamber with General Campbell. The dispatch further states that the action of Pinchbeck will give Grant a certain gain of twenty thousand votes which heretofore had been considered doubtful.

Pinchbeck's Republican Convention passed resolutions endorsing the National Republican platform adopted at Philadelphia, and pledged their support to Grant and Wilson, agreeing to nominate a full State ticket.

A resolution was adopted authorizing the State Central Committee to make such change on the State ticket as may tend to unite the Republicans of the State on one ticket, said authority to extend to October 1st. The nominations were: Governor—P. B. S. Pinchbeck, colored; Lieut. Governor—A. B. Harris, of Concordia; Secretary of State—George B. Loud, of Iberville; Auditor—W. Jasper Blackburne, of Leirk Bronna; Attorney General—A. P. Field, of New Orleans; Superintendent of Education—W. G. Brown, colored, of New Orleans; Congressman at Large—A. C. Dibble, of New Orleans; Congressman, First District—Edward Butler, colored, of Plaquemire; second—A. E. Barber, colored, of New Orleans; third—Thomas H. Noland, of Iberville; fourth—J. Madison Wells, of Rapids; also resident electors and delegates.

The Convention adjourned sine die. Nothing was accomplished by any committee regarding a fusion with Campbell.

The bolters, from the Pinchbeck Convention adopted a resolution endorsing Greeley and Brown and the Liberal State nomination; also authorizing the formation of an Executive Committee, auxiliary to the Liberal Committee, after which they adjourned sine die.

The Straight-out Democrats at Work.

LITTLE ROCK, August 13.—The Gazette of yesterday says the following was received by a prominent Republican in this city a few days ago:

Washington, D. C., July 30, 1872.—Dear Sir: —Please send the enclosed circular to active Democrats in your district who do not support Mr. Greeley, and who will co-operate in the Louisville Convention. Send me a list of such men in each county immediately.

J. M. EDMONDS, Secretary.

The same paper states that Mr. Edmonds is Postmaster in Washington city, a member of the Resident Republican Congressional Committee at Washington, and President of the W. L. A. in 1868. The circular urges the organization of a straight Democracy, and the sending of delegates to the Louisville Convention.

Greeley Counting the Chickens in the Shell.

BOSTON, August 13.—A special dispatch from Washington to the Traveller says that Greeley has written the following to one of his political friends in this city.

Bradford, N. H., August 13.—Dear Judge: Yours of the 3d finds me here. The news from North Carolina did not justify the first reports, but if we work hard I am sure we will carry it in November. We shall carry New Hampshire, Connecticut, New York and New Jersey. This is the extent of our work in the East. The rest will have to be done in the South and West.

Yours truly, HORACE GREELEY.

MILWAUKEE, August 13.—The following resolution was unanimously adopted at the noon session of the Chamber of Commerce of Milwaukee to-day:

WHEREAS, It being reliably reported that the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad is refusing to furnish transportation for grain from Milwaukee to Chicago, thus warranting the inference that the road is in collusion or conspiracy with the Chicago wheat corner, therefore be it

Resolved, That as a public institution and a commerce carrier, enjoying special privileges and monopolies, it becomes that corporation promptly to free itself from such imputations by its action in this matter.

The Crispins Resolve to Maintain their Rights—Eighteenth Annual Meeting of the American Dental Convention.

LYNN, MASS., August 13.—The Crispins, at a large meeting last night, unanimously adopted the following:

Resolved, By the Crispins of Lynn, in mass meeting assembled, that while we recognize the right of manufacturers to offer such terms as justice and regard for their own interests may seem to require, we also shall assert and maintain, at every cost and every hazard, our right to belong to and participate in any organization, social, industrial, religious, political or beneficiary, which in our judgment is wise and proper, and any attempt on the part of any one to abridge or obstruct such right is a vile and indefensible interference with personal liberty.

The statement telegraphed from here on the 10th inst. that the Crispins had decided to withdraw from the Lynn Savings Bank all the money standing to their credit is pronounced, by the Secretary of that order, untrue, no motion of that nature having been made.

AMERICAN DENTAL CONVENTION.

The eighteenth annual meeting of the American Dental Convention opened at the rooms of the Massachusetts Dental Society this noon. Dr. Wm. Dutch, of San Francisco, President of the Association, was in the chair. The opening address was delivered by Dr. E. G. It is understood that those recommended for pardon will be released immediately.

MATRIMONIAL MISERIES.

A Touching Letter from a Doctor of Divinity to a Wife of Four Days.

[From the St. Louis Democrat.]

Mr. James Goodlet was tried in the Court of Criminal Correction yesterday for kicking the Rev. Dr. Almerin Grow.

On the 16th of last month Dr. Grow married Mrs. Adeline Flowers, a buxom widow, who for a year had lived in the family of Mr. Goodlet. The first day's experience of the lady as Mrs. Dr. Grow was not as pleasant as it might have been. Her affection for Dr. Grow did not grow stronger, and she left him the morning after the marriage. She returned to his loving arms, however, although Goodlet attempted to separate them, and when the husband went to fetch his bride, the unfeeling man gave his reverend spine an irreverent kick.

The wife was put on the stand and testified that although married to Dr. Grow, she had lived with him only four days. She was unhappy with him, because he used rough language, and she claimed the protection of Goodlet.

Judge Colvin was greatly amused at the case, and was disposed to pass it over as a strictly family affair, but reflecting that a follower of the Lord had been promiscuously kicked by a sinner, he concluded that a fine of ten dollars would set the matter to rights.

The richest part of the proceeding was the following letter, which was passed around and read by the lawyers and reporters.

AN AFFECTING LETTER.

"ST. LOUIS, MO., July 31, 1872.

"MY DEAR WIFE, ADELINE—Lest you might think I am blind, and all my other senses benumbed, I will state a few things of which I was fully aware before I married you, and a few more that have come to light since. 'Tis true I have shown a pretty rough side of myself, and I have done so purposely, but I have another side that is much smoother, which I will turn to you when the proper time comes. I was determined to have a fair understanding with you, and we are now approaching it, and in due time we will settle down in peace and quiet, and bear and forbear with each other. What applies to me applies to you also, not to think of ourselves above what we ought to think. In the first place you are what is called low-bred; your education is very limited—far inferior to mine; your manners are not refined, and some of your habits are most abominable filthy. You lack the very first qualification of a real lady, your personal appearance is far from prepossessing, your eyes are exactly like cat's eyes, your frame is large, raw-boned and loose-jointed, you are lean and flabby, with enormous hands and feet. * * *

"Your false teeth, and the lack of care on your part in keeping them clean, renders your breath offensive. You are encumbered with a child, the offspring of a man who forsook you, and who, for want of proper government, has become very hard to control; and your temper is at times ungovernable, and you give way to passion, and beat your child without any good effect; and, according to your own statement, some of your associates are disreputable. You are not truthful at all times, and many other failings and weaknesses you have too numerous to write. Now, the most of this I knew before I married you, and what I have learned since did not surprise me in the least. With all the facts before me I took you for my wife, and you are my wife, legally and in the sight of Heaven, and I am, and will ever be to you, a true and faithful husband. With all the faults above named I love you, and do so still, but I have concluded not to be under your feet any longer, but am now prepared to take you to my bosom, where you belong, and love, nourish and cherish you, as I am in duty bound, and it will also be my greatest pleasure to make you happy. I accept your child, also, and will be to her a father indeed. I do not love you for the characteristics I have named, but for other good qualities which I have not herein named. I took your bad parts to get your good, and I am satisfied with you. You are as good as I expected you were; but, lest you might think I am blind, I thought I would name a few things that may, to some extent, offset some of my faults. Mine I can and will mend, and I ask you to do the same, as far as you can, and I will bear what can't be mended, and will see that you have little to bear from me henceforth. I am, your loving husband, ALMERIN GROW."

THE DIAMOND MINES.

What if the Story Should Turn Out a Hoax.

[From the Virginia (Nev.) Enterprise, August 2.]

Arizonians now in this city unhesitatingly pronounce the diamond excitement now raging in San Francisco a humbug. They say that the diamonds, if genuine, are from the African diamond fields, and were doubtless brought to San Francisco for the express purpose of starting a grand swindle in diamond stock. A few months since there was a big story started about diamonds being found in the ant-hills of a certain section of Arizona, and it was reported that fine specimens had reached San Francisco. Many persons credited the story, and were about to rush to the diamond diggings, but were prevented from doing so by their inability to get any further news than that furnished in the first report. A gentleman now in this city, who was in Arizona at the time of that first diamond excitement, informs us that the story of there being diamonds by the bushel in the ant-hills in a certain section of Arizona was first started by a German chemist. A company was formed, of which the gentleman mentioned was a member, to go out and explore the wonderful region. After many hardships, and after nearly perishing from thirst, the ant-hills were reached and the German proceeded to show his friends the diamonds, which proved to be nothing more valuable than the eggs of the ants, which they dug out of the hillocks with a stick. Until they had seen this none of the party had discovered that their guide was demented, so straightforward was his account of the diamond fields, and so sensible was his conversation upon almost every subject. This first humbug probably gave some one the idea of getting up the diamond sell now raging in San Francisco. Suppose there are diamonds to be found in Arizona, why need any one purchase stock in any company formed in San Francisco? The diamond hunter has only to purchase an outfit and go and dig on his own hook, when he will be quite as successful as he would be had he his pockets full of the diamonds company's stock.

BONDS at Frankfort 96¾.

PETROLEUM at Antwerp 47f.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 114¼@114⅜.

THE Republican meeting announced to be held at Washington, Pa., on the 19th instant, will take place on Tuesday, the 20th.

THE St. Louis Globe after going over the Congressional field of that State by districts comes to the conclusion that "the Republicans will carry, at least, eight of the thirteen districts, and by such handsome majorities as to make the electoral vote of the State sure for Grant and Wilson."

COL. FORNEY, of the Philadelphia Press, is disposed to test the quality of the temperature on the Pacific coast. This is wisdom on his part, and will save his paper from the erratic notions it has been pursuing. Its last efforts have not proved particularly profitable, and it is very convenient to have a distant trip possible, as a means of escape from a disagreeable situation.

THE stock in trade of the Liberals seems to be the idea of "shaking hands across the bloody chasm." President Grant has shown himself to be possessed of at least reasonable generosity and liberality, by proposing to release such of the imprisoned Ku-Klux at Albany as are recommended by Mr. Whitely, chief of the secret service. This is not, of course, undiscriminating generosity, but it is the right kind, nevertheless.

FROM various points we have the testimony that the attendance at meetings held in the interest of the Republican candidates is uniformly large, and the enthusiasm very marked. This is a very noticeable fact, when we consider the heat of the weather, and the reported disaffection. It shows that the people are very much more interested and more thoroughly in sympathy with the party than they were receiving credit for.

THE Liberals of New Orleans, under the lead of Carter, thought it wise and proper, on Monday to attempt to seize upon the Republican Convention being held in that city. They failed most lamentably, and Lieutenant-Governor Pinchbeck, in a speech which went far toward defeating their purposes, declared that the safety of the colored race in the South depended very greatly on the re-election of President Grant. The designs of the Carterites were entirely defeated, and the Convention was readily held by the regular party.

THE Post devotes considerable space to Blanton Duncan, and the Louisville Democratic Convention. This won't do. The proposed Convention will be made up of those who are faithful Democrats—strict in their adherence to the usages and faith of the party. Samuel J. Bayard, of New Jersey, formerly Secretary of the Camden and Amboy Railroad, is one of the prime movers; and it is not impossible that Charles O'Conor will be their candidate for the Presidency. In the event of his nomination, we shall speedily see whether there be not Democrats with enough honor to stand by the traditions of their party.

THE last resort of the disappointed is now being employed by the Democracy. The North Carolina election which was so glorious that the pious Post called down the blessings of heaven upon her, is denounced as a first-class fraud. The pure souls who gerrymandered the State so effectually as to absolutely prevent an honest expression of the people's will, as regards the legislature, are to investigate the gubernatorial returns and secure the office to Merriman. We then, no doubt, will again hear some pious ejaculations, as showing how the righteous have triumphed. Those Ku-Klux South, are remarkably religious people.

THE New York World does President Grant the honor of crediting him with the progress of the Geneva arbitration, but seeks to belittle the results achieved thus far. This will hardly do. The Alabama affair is either a success, or all the reports from Geneva are misleading and false. The indications, on all sides, point to a decision in all respects favorable to the American cause. It is a triumph of diplomacy that the subject was ever referred to a Court of Arbitration. If, under this arrangement, we receive as much in damages as we were entitled to expect at all, who can rightly criticise the results reached, or the course pursued? The World does not display its usual far-reaching shrewdness in the case under mention.

FRANK BLAIR, candidate for Vice President with Seymour in 1868, in one of his speeches during that canvass, said:

> "Words were never uttered more fatal than those by Greeley, defending the right of secession, to the peace of the country. Mr. Stephens was defeated in his effort to prevent secession in Georgia, by a few votes only, and nothing is more certain than that these were obtained by Mr. Greeley's declaration that secession was rightful and would be peaceable. I have been informed that these declarations were read in the Georgia Convention as a full reply to the warning of Mr. Stephens. The refusal of Georgia would undoubtedly have arrested the movement. Who then is more directly responsible than Mr. Greeley and those who acted with him at the North, for the blood which has drenched this land?"

It is not unlikely that one of the reasons that now induces Alexander H. Stephens to oppose Greeley is stated in the above extract. Greeley's secessionism in 1861 overcome Stephens' devotion to the Union, and Georgia was swept into the rebellion. Frank Blair put the point as strong as there is need for, and it has the virtue of truthfulness.

THE Department of State at Washington has printed for circulation the general regulations for the foreign exhibitors and commissions at the Vienna Universal Exhibition, which will be opened on the 1st of May, 1873, and closed on the 31st of October of the same year. "Group No. 19" of the objects to be exhibited, we learn from the circular, is to solve one of the most important social questions of the day. Its purpose is to show how most of the private dwelling houses are now built and arranged in different countries, and how they can and ought to be built in order best to fulfill their purposes, taking into consideration the climate and local circumstances and mode of life of the different people, as well as their wants and habits. The exhibition will enable the architects of all civilized nations to exhibit the private dwelling houses which suit best the climate and the habits of their country, and will enable the visitors who give their attention to this problem, to make instructive comparisons and to adopt that which might be suited even to other countries and other customs. The construction of the house will not alone be taken into consideration at this exhibition; it will also be completely furnished. The furnishing of the house so as to make it comfortable to live in, will be doubly useful.

THE New York Times, in a cool and cautious review of the political situation, thinks that from present appearances the contest is narrowed down to the probabilities in Indiana, New York and Pennsylvania. It says:

> "The great battle-ground of the present campaign is in the three great States of New York, Pennsylvania and Indiana. However other States may go, the party which carries two of these three States will in all probability elect its candidates."

These States have votes in the Electoral College as follows: New York, 35; Pennsylvania, 29; Indiana, 15; total, 79. The whole number of votes in the Electoral College is 366, and as it looks as though the Times' estimate is correct, Grant will have to carry 105 votes besides these States to be elected. Without these the chances are that Grant will carry 171 votes and Greeley 116 as the case now stands. The Times sums up Greeley's defection and the Democrats' mistake thus:

> "The controlling idea with the Democrats was that the novelty and the boldness of their policy would carry everybody away by surprise. The people would be dumbfoundered, and would all rush pell-mell after the figure of an old white coat and hat. But this expectation has been disappointed. Greeley was stronger the day after the Baltimore Convention than he has ever been. He has been losing ground ever since. The party whose nominee he is have been hampered in their efforts to give him a decent support. They cry themselves hoarse about nepotism, but what have they to say for their candidate? We look in vain through their organs for the list of his transcendent merits, or for eulogies upon his character and abilities. He has passed thirty or forty years in a sort of public life, yet where are the acts or services for which the 'sham Democracy,' as he used to delight in calling his present supporters, now delight in praising him."

THE SEPTEMBER CONVENTION.

In about a month we will have the pleasure of welcoming to our city one of the largest and noblest gatherings of soldiers and sailors ever witnessed in the country. Enough is already known for the assurance to be given that every prominent and brave Union officer will be here, while there will be a vast delegation, representing the rank and file of those who fought the battles and achieved the victories of the rebellion. Our city will tender them a welcome worthy their services and their renown. There will also be present, doubtless, distinguished citizens, who, while earnest promotors of the war, were not called to enter upon military life. Among them will be Hon. Henry Wilson, our candidate for the Vice Presidency—a man so pure that even our political opponents do not venture to assail his character or traduce his record. Others, also celebrated for their achievements in civil life, will be present, and we anticipate one of the grandest conventions our city has ever witnessed.

The preparations for all this will require considerable foresight and exertion on the part of those in our city having the subject in charge. The work of correspondence, looking to the convention itself, its aim and subjects for discussion, its reunions and celebrations, will doubtless be performed by the committee of which General Burnside is chairman. But there will remain a vast amount of labor to be performed by our local committees, embracing the raising of funds, the planning of the details of order and celebration, the selection of halls, the arrangements for meeting, and provision for entertainment, and many other matters. We are glad to say that vigorous and experienced committees have all these items in charge, and that the work of preparation is in a very forward state.

We are confident that the results which will follow this convention will amply repay for the cost and trouble it may occasion. It will cheer the hearts and freshly inspire the energies of those who fought our battles, to meet together and rehearse their experiences, and compare notes once more. It will be an inspiration to workers in the good cause throughout the country, to hear or read the utterances of those who feared not the embattled hosts of the enemy. Their coming together will enkindle enthusiasm, and set the country in a blaze. We venture that Allegheny county will be electrified, and that the vigorous canvass which shall precede and succeed the convention, will result in a majority like those given amid the stern excitements of the war. We also believe that the effect of the convention on the country at large will be exceedingly agreeable. It will be impossible for those gathered here from distant States and territories to return to their friends, without carrying with them much of the enthusiasm enkindled here. The facilities for scattering information, afforded by the telegraph and the press, will cause the pulse beats of the convention to be felt at once in all parts of the country. What is said and done will be reproduced with graphic power, and published everywhere. Thus the enthusiasm that will doubtless be enkindled here, will electrify the people elsewhere, and we shall not be surprised if during the progress of the convention, we shall have many words of cheer from distant parts of the country. We will welcome the convention as right and proper in itself, and for the inspiration it will give to workers in the cause in every part of the land.

TWO FALSEHOODS CRUSHED.

The New York World, having the backing, it says, of responsible names, opens its columns to correct two slanders and falsehoods that have been launched against General Grant. Mr. Hendricks, of Indiana, in his canvass of that State, has attempted to throw discredit on the statements of Senators Morton and Conkling, that President Grant had received no presents since his election as President, by reading a letter of the General's dated as late as February 17, 1869, acknowledging a present. Another charge was that A. T. Stewart and seven other gentlemen had presented to the President his Long Branch cottage. Both of these statements that have gone to make the warp and woof of the parrot-like cry about the "gift-taker" are authoritatively denied upon such authority as the New York World does not feel at liberty to question. Here is a quotation from the World's correspondent:

I wish to expose a political forgery, which, though it did not originate with your paper, finds currency in your columns this morning. You print the following:

"WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 17, 1869.

"DEAR GENERAL: Your letter of the 15th, inclosing me the handsome testimonial of the citizens of New York, with the names of all the too generous contributors to it, is received. * * *

"Through you I wish to thank the gentlemen whose names you have inclosed to me individually and collectively. I have the honor to be your obedient servant,

"U. S. GRANT."

The forgery is in the date. The letter was written in 1866. And yet this identical forged letter has formed the text of numerous stump speeches and newspaper paragraphs during the past three months.

While I am about it let me deal with another current misstatement.

For the purchase of the President's cottage at Long Branch, presented to him after he became President, there were eight subscribers. This is the direct personal statement of Alexander T. Stewart, who said significantly that he "knew of one gentleman who was invited to become a subscriber to that fund."

Neither Mr. Alexander T. Stewart nor any other living man subscribed and paid any sum of money whatever toward the President's cottage at Long Branch. Mr. Stewart never stated that he had made such subscription. He said he knew of one gentleman who had been invited to become a subscriber to a fund for the purchase of a cottage for the President, but he never did and never will say (for Mr. Stewart is a truthful man) that any such fund was actually raised, or that the President had any knowledge of or complicity with the intended donation.

"THE AMERICAN FEVER."

The Swedes,—the governing, rich and aristocratic classes at least,—are as much alarmed as the German authorities, by the emigration to the United States. It appears that in 1868 the number of emigrants had reached to 30,000, more than one-half of whom were able-bodied workmen and mechanics. In 1869 the exodus was still greater, 38,500 having left the country. This drain has since continued in even larger proportions. The Swedish and Norwegian emigration mainly goes to the northwest where the climate accords with that of their native land. In some counties of Wisconsin and Minnesota the population is mainly made up of Swedes and Norwegians. They are a good class of emigrants; sober, industrious, and religious, preferring agriculture to city pursuits.

The newspapers of Germany are still discussing the "American fever," as they call the exodus to this country, and in no very pleasant vein either. The Kreutz Zeitung of Berlin wants a tax of fifty thalers per head for every adult who wishes to emigrate. It thinks this a sure means of repressing the epidemic. The complaint is made that young men of the army, on furlough, leave for the United States and never return. The same paper insists that such should be required to deposit fifty thalers, to be forfeited in case they do not return. The semi-official and conservative press of Germany have raised the alarm very generally. Bismark's organ joins in the cry, and blames the emigration agents, who it says, "allure their credulous victims by fraud and deception, and bring woe and ruin upon families and entire communities." The Vossische Zeitung, in opposing emigration, cites the law visiting the evasion of military duty with a penalty of fifty to one thousand thalers, and imprisonment of from one month to one year, and makes the following announcement:

> "Orders have been given to arrest all individuals who persuade people to emigrate. All persons not supplied with papers certifying that they are fully entitled to emigrate, that they leave no indigent family behind, and that they are not liable to military duty shall be stopped at their own expense."

The unpleasantness and severity of army life, to which all Germans are subject, is without doubt one of the great causes of the desire to emigrate. To storm the tide, it seems likely the Government will modify the laws in regard to military service. Unless this is done, or repressive laws of doubtful expediency framed to prevent emigration, the rural districts will be depopulated of all laborers and non-owners of the soil who are able to emigrate.

THE BIG TREES.

Grace Greenwood's Visit to the Calaveras Grove in California.

(From her Letter in N. Y. Times.)

The stage-ride of sixteen miles, from Murphy's to the Big Trees, we found very pleasant in the early morning. The grove itself, containing nearly a hundred of the giants, is a most lovely place, and as there is here an excellent hotel it is becoming more and more a summer resort for Californians. I doubt if any traveler willingly leaves it after a visit of only a few hours. I met here a dear old friend in the noble wife of Prof. Whitney, who, with her young daughter is spending the summer in the grand, beneficent shadow of the Segnoias—finding inexhaustible delight in this wood of woods—so green, and clean and aromatic, and in watching it under all the changes of light and shade of day and night. They say that the moonlight effects here are inexpressibly lovely. The trees of the Calaveras grove are less injured by fire than those of Mariposa, and are generally taller and more symmetrical.

Mrs. Whitney gave me a vivid realization of their height by saying that when she looked out upon them from her chamber window at night she saw "the stars entangled in their branches." In entering the grounds you drive between two superb trees, standing like gate posts, and called "the sentinels." How grand it would be to see these stately old monarchs bowing to each other in an earthquake? You drive past the stump and a section of the trunk of the immense tree felled several years ago. It was in its prime—only about 1,300 years old—and sound to the heart. Its fall shook the grove, as Caesar's fall shook Rome. It took half a dozen men with pump augers and wedges twenty-two days to do the dreadful deed. Over the stump is built a pavilion, dedicated to religious services, political meetings, dancing and tea-parties. It is thirty-two feet in diameter—large enough to hold all President Grant's unfortunate relations and all the patriotic, disinterested politicians of the conglomerate Democracy. Were it in Rhode Island, it would be large enough for all campaign purposes—you could "swing round the circle" on it, and stump the State.

The tallest tree now standing is the "Keystone State," 325 feet; but one of the fallen trees, the largest and best preserved, looked to have been much taller—perhaps from its position. Abraham Lincoln never looked so tall as when he lay under the dome of the Capitol, dead. This grand old tree lying in state, under the blue dome of the sky, had for me something of the rugged majesty and awful repose of that ungainly, pathetic figure, which we remember with smiles that soften into tears, and tears that brighten into smiles. The sturdy tree must have gone down in or after a great tempest. It fell up-hill, but is very little broken. By a ladder at the root you mount the trunk, and walk all the way by a good trail to the topmost branches. It is like following the Nile to its source. It is rather a fatiguing and perilous expedition, as portions of the tree are very slippery. A railway up there would be an improvement—a grand trunk railroad. The route seemed to me quite practicable—the grade is not heavy; there would be but little trestle-work required at the breaks, and and only a few sharp curves, around knots. The larger limbs could be tunneled.

There are here some curious hollow trees—snug retreats for disappointed spirits, flying from the more hollow outside world, and there is one dead tree yet standing, called the "Mother of the Forest," which presents a peculiarly melancholy, not to say ghastly appearance, it having been actually flayed alive some years ago. Think of a skin eighteen inches thick, cuticle and cutis, being stripped from 116 feet of a poor old mother's body—and in this climate, too! Of course, she died. The impious speculators took the skin to the Sydenham Crystal Palace, when it was burned—and served them right.

The only woman beside this unfortunate "mother," who has been distinctly honored by having a tree dedicated to her, is Florence Nightingale, whose name naturally associates itself with a grove.

The church is nobly represented by Henry Ward Beecher and Thomas Starr King—the State by Webster, Clay and Cobden, the literature by Bryant, the Presidency by Washington, Jackson, Lincoln and Grant. The last is a solid, stately tree, 261 feet high. It seems perfectly sound, and may stand a good five hundred years, unless flayers, choppers and augurers prove too much for it.

Here, as at Mariposa, we noticed the diminutive size of the cone of the Segnola Gigantia. If proportioned to the tree, it would be about as large as a flour barrel. But Nature, who showed a tender regard for our heads in declining to hang pumpkins on oaks instead of acorns, has shown equal consideration in this case. As I looked up into the lofty gloom of the dark branches I wondered if little birds ever nested up so high. It seemed that only eagles belonged there. It was breezy, yet I listened in vain for the sea-like surge, soughing of the wind among those branches—lateral trees. No distinct piney murmur came down to me, and I do not believe that the sound they give forth in their upper solitudes is in proportion to their size, so unbending and immutably they seem. Sorrowful, but majestic, erect, apart, lonely, lordly monuments of the solemn, silent ages, they surely do not make the ado of lesser conifers—answering every impertinent gust, complaining of every summer storm. But if we were lifted up nearer to their dark tops we could perhaps hear a sad, incessant monotone, a low murmur of weariness and unrest, out of the midst of rigid stateliness and sombre grandeur—the low sob of a passion of struggle and aspiring, spent centuries ago—a plaint, fervid, but patient, that were like a sigh from the burdened heart of the earth. We might hear at twilight mysterious whispers of old elemental tragedies, of primeval portents and convulsions, of the blaze of comets and the murk of eclipse, of star-showers and tornadoes that never had human chronicler in all the wild continent.

IN Italy, excluding the Roman States and Venice, there are two hundred and ten public libraries containing 4,149,281 volumes, giving nineteen volumes for every one hundred inhabitants. Twenty-eight of these libraries, containing 335,872 volumes, are in Sicily. In Rome there are twelve libraries, containing an aggregate of over one million volumes, of which about one-half are in the library of the Vatician. In Venice there are forty-six libraries containing 905,895 volumes.

THE debt of Canada in twenty years, from 1851 to 1871, has increased from $29,481,472 to $126,832,008. In 1867 the Dominion started, since when the debt has grown faster than before. The Dominion, however, has a good deal to show for her debt, and especially in the way of internal improvements.

MR. COLEMAN, of Providence, has just received $3,800 from the New York and New Haven Railroad, for ejecting him from the cars when he had paid his fare. Mr. Coleman had a ticket from New York to New Haven, which he offered for his fare in going between the same points in the opposite direction, and the court has settled that it was a sufficient consideration.

THE impression is gaining ground that Alaska is not going to prove so bad a bargain as was supposed. In addition to its furs and fisheries, it seems probable that its mineral resources may be valuable. Gold and silver quartz has been discovered, and amber has also been found. Experienced geologists express their belief that the countryt is rich in auriferous deposits.

Details have reached of a horrible crime which was perpetrated last week in Weber county, Utah. Two herd boys, aged thirteen and fourteen years respectively, met a girl named Janet Low, fifteen years of age, in a cattle range, dragged her from her horse, abused her, and then pushed her into a deep slough where she was drowned. The boys have both been arrested.

THE scarcity and high price of meat in England is explained on the theory that the country cannot produce enough to supply the inhabitants, and that the importation of foreign live cattle is prohibited through fear of the introduction of disease. Irish cattle, however, are imported without restriction, and they, it is stated, spread disease to such an extent that the deaths of English cattle have alarmingly increased.

A NEWSPAPER editor, who had been spending his vacation in New England, says there is no place in the world for absolute quietness like a New England town on Sunday. No sight or sound inharmonious with the spirit of the day disturbs its peace. Nothing but the melody of the church bells breaks the stillness, and in the universal rest one recuperates, recovers from the fatigues of travel, and prepares to enjoy what the country has to offer.

MRS. COOPER, of New York, was very severely burned a year ago, about the breast and neck, and new skin would not form. The doctors then performed a very delicate operation, consisting of grafting upon the patient small pieces of flesh from other patients. Eighty-nine pieces of the size of a three-cent piece were thus applied, of which eighty adhered, and the woman has just been discharged, perfectly cured. This is considered a most remarkable case.

THE high price of coal in Great Britain, it is believed, will induce English people to give up their present unscientific and most wasteful methods of burning fuel. The system of grates is beginning to be condemned as wholly indefensible, as it causes a maximum of expense and gives a minimum of heat. The sentimental attachment to good old English fires has not only preserved the grate in sitting-rooms, but has kept up the old-fashioned kitchen fire, which distributes the heat and does not concentrate it upon the food.

IF the Philadelphia ruffian, Marra, is ever caught, it will probably be by accident. He has been at large about a fortnight, and, although his whereabouts have been from time to time discovered, no one seems able or willing to touch him. After shooting Alderman McMullen, he plunged southward into Maryland, and while in a swamp near Havre de Grace was spied by some citizens, who public-spirited undertook to arrest him, and secure the $2,500 reward. Fully armed they made the attempt, but Marra showed fight and beat them off.

Why Bakerfield Didn't Have a Church.

[From a California Letter.]

"Well," said the Judge, who is one of the leading citizens of that mining town, "I agree with you, and we did make an effort to get up a church, but somehow it did not succeed. My wife and I talked it over; she preferred an Episcopal church, and I called a meeting of the most respectable men of the place to choose a vestry. They voted me in the chair, and I nominated Mr. Johnson as a vestryman. Mr. Johnson declined to serve. He modestly said he thought himself not fit for the office; he liked an occasional game of draw poker, he said; he was given to some other worldly amusements, like dancing when there was a fiddler anywhere around; he couldn't resist a horse-race, and unfortunately all the horse racing in Havilah took place on Sunday, which was sure to interfere with his duties as a vestryman, and so he would rather not serve. I told him," continued the Judge, "that men were not expected to be so absolutely perfect in these days; that the chair itself was fond of an occasional little game of poker, and that the office of vestryman was, in the judgment of the chair, purely ministerial; but somehow he did not see it in that light; he is a modest man, and he wouldn't serve. When he backed out everybody else did, too, and so this effort of ours to get up a church fell through. I've always been sorry for it," added the Judge, frankly, "for I think a church an excellent thing to have."

A TEXAS patriarch is living at Waco, in that State. The Waco Advance says he has been married five times, and is the father of fifty legitimate children—thirteen boys by his first wife; eighteen children, boys and girls, by his second wife; ten by his third wife; six by his fourth, and three by his fifth wife. Thirty-five of these children are living, or were a year ago; eight were killed in the Confederate army; seven died natural deaths. Thirteen boys, all children of the first wife, held office in the Galloway brigade, Platte county, Missouri, troops of the Confederate army; four sons by the second wife and three by the third were in the Confederate army, making in all twenty soldiers contributed by the patriarch to the Southern cause. The man is hale and hearty, and his present, or fifth wife, is young, fair, good-looking, with a wealth of beautiful hair, and "promises to still add to the population of the country." If anybody doubts this story, the Waco paper says the father of this numerous family will make affidavit to the truth of it.

VICE PRESIDENT COLFAX not long ago warned the nation against its greatest danger in the future—the immense balance of trade against us which drains the United States of gold to pay for foreign purchases. In the light of the enormous importations weekly from Europe it does not seem that the admonition has been given a moment too soon. For the seven days which ended on the 10th inst., there was received at New York nearly ten millions of dollars' worth of goods, which we must pay for in gold. Such items as these were included, and it will be noticed that with but one or two exceptions every article named is a luxury: Silks, satins, laces, &c $3,649,432; jewelry, $126,257; watches, $86,410; ale, $4,526; brandy, $8,611; beer, $2,593; cordials, $103; champaigne, $24,070; gin, $2,774; mineral water, $1,087; porter, $331; vinegar, $6,067; whisky, $10,067; wines, $47,520; fancy goods, $49,355. Certainly we are paying dearly for the pretty things of life.

HARLEM RIVER, which forms the northern boundary of the island of Manhattan on which New York is situated, is crossed at the northern terminus of Third avenue, in that city, by the well-known "Harlem Bridge." This means of communication is not sufficient to accommodate the growing population, and the New York Park Commissioners have reported resolutions in favor of the immediate construction of a tunnel under Harlem river, at the end of Seventh avenue, and of a suspension bridge across the river from Washington Heights to the opposite heights in Westchester county. The tunnel, estimated to cost $1,500,000, is intended to be 2,759 feet long, sixteen feet in height and thirty-four feet in width, and is to be built of solid masonry. The top of the arch is to be over seventeen feet below high water mark.

INMAN, of the regular army, has been found guilty, by a court-martial convened at St. Paul, Minnesota, of appropriating to his own use money which belonged to the government, and has been dismissed from the service, and has been fined a sum as near the amount of his peculations as can be ascertained.

MRS. LOUISA ATKINS, who recently obtained her medical diploma at Zurich, after five years' study, has been duly elected Resident Physician and Secretary of the Birmingham and Midland Hospital for Women, in England. This, we believe, is the first instance in which a woman has filled that post in the British dominions.

COL. JOSEPH LEFFLER, of Springfield, Ohio, well known throughout the country as one of the most successful bee keepers in the United States, was married the other day to Miss Evaline Beasley. The Colonel is 45 inches high, weighs 55 pounds, and is 38 years old. His bride is five or six inches taller than he, weighs 75 pounds, and is 23 years of age.

THE bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church are now twelve in number. It was understood that the eight newly elected should live in their respective dioceses; but there seems to be some fear that they may not readily comply with this understanding. Hence Dr. W. H. Hunter, a presiding elder of Central Illinois, calls for an order from the General Conference that shall make it imperative.

MR. JOHN BROUGHAM has completed a play upon which he has been engaged for several years, and which he is said to regard as his master-work. The subject is the much used one of Joan of Arc. It would be a curious circumstance if America should produce the best stage setting of that story, now that Germany, France, Italy and England have all had their hands at it with only moderate success.

A MINISTER going to dine after sermon with one of his deacons came upon the hired boy of his host digging at a woodchuck's hole. The parson, who was unknown to the boy, checked his rein and accosted him with, "Well, my son, what are you doing there?" "Digging out a woodchuck, sir," said the boy. "Why, but don't you know that it is very wicked? And, besides, you won't get him if you dig for him on Sunday." "Git 'im!" said the boy, "thunder! I've got to git 'im; the minister's coming to our house to dinner, and we ain't got any meat."

As the worthy town crier of Nantucket was going his rounds on Tuesday afternoon, when in front of one of the boarding houses, he overheard a young man request one of the lady boarders, who was seated under an open window, to ask him where his bell came from. The crier rang up, and gave notice of what was to be sold by auction, when the lady, in a squeaky voice, said, "Mister, where did your bell come from?" "My bell," retorted the crier in no gentle voice, "came from the same place your manners did—from a brass foundry." The young lady asked no further questions.

MRS. MATTHEWS, the mother of Vice President Colfax, who died at South Bend Sunday last, will long be remembered at Washington as having presided at her son's receptions during his Speakership. She was a lady of gentle, dignified, and refined manners, and was held in high esteem by a very wide circle of friends and acquaintances. Her first husband, Schuyler Colfax, father of the Vice President, was an officer of the Mechanics' Bank in New York city, where he lived and died; his only son being born four months after his death. Mrs. Colfax, several years afterward, married Mr. Matthews, and removed to the village of New Carlisle, in Northern Indiana. During the minority of Vice President Colfax the family lived together, and when Mr. Colfax became Speaker of the House of Representatives, Mrs. Matthews and daughter accompanied him to Washington, his wife then being a confirmed invalid. Mrs. Matthews was a woman of more than usual intelligence, a fond but firm mother, and had the entire confidence, esteem and filial devotion of her distinguished son during all the trying years of his early life and his later and successful manhood.

THE London newspapers are full of praise to the indefatigable correspondent of the Herald. The London Telegraph speaks of the origin of Mr. Stanley's going to Africa as follows: "The manner in which this successful expedition was originated will rather astonish geographical societies. It was an idea of young Mr. Bennett, at that time staying in Paris. He telegraphed for Mr. Stanley, then resident in Madrid, and he, not knowing what business was in hand, left instantly, arrived at the Grand Hotel, Paris, at eleven of the night, and went at once to Mr. Bennett's room. That gentleman was in bed. 'Come in, Sir! who are you?' 'My name is Stanley' answered the young correspondent. 'Ah, yes!' replied the New York journalist; 'sit down—glad to see you. Have you any idea where Livingstone is?' 'No!' 'Well, I think he is living and is to be found. Will you try to find him?' 'Yes!' 'Good: you can have an unlimited credit. Use your own means, carry out your own plans. Good night!' Thus the Herald's expedition in search of Livingstone was set on foot. Mr. Stanley was a man to act upon such laconic commissions. With an almost exhaustless fund of information, of fertile expedients, determined courage and unceasing perseverance, he is always ready for duty, and therewithal modest as to his success."

KILLED IN A CHURCH.

A Brother Shoots the Traducer of His Sister's Reputation.

[From the Paducah Kentuckian, 8th.]

On Tuesday night last, Lovelaceville, in Ballard county, was the scene of a most unexpected and bloody tragedy which occurred in the church at that place. The particulars, as we learn them, were about as follows: A short time since some notices were posted in conspicuous places branding the sister of Rudolph as a woman of bad character, and generally defaming her. Suspicion pointed to Charles Stringer as the author of these notices, and on the morning of the tragedy Stringer posted a notice stating that he was not the author, and that, if she believed he was, to prosecute him, and see how much she could make out of it. To this no name was signed. In the meantime John Rudolph and Stringer had not met, but on Tuesday night, Rudolph being in church, Stringer entered, and asked him to come out. They walked out to the entrance, and had some words, the substance of which no one seems to have understood, when Rudolph, drawing a six-inch navy pistol, fired. The ball entered Stringer's right breast, but did not stagger him, when Rudolph immediately fired a second shot, both taking effect. Stringer threw his hand up, covering the wound, and fell dead instantly on the steps of the church. The pistol was so close to him that when it exploded it burnt his clothing. The greatest consternation prevailed for a time in the church, as the whole affair was so sudden and unexpected. Rudolph was arrested, and his case will undergo judicial investigation. From all we can hear it appears that Rudolph was afraid of Stringer, thinking it was his intention to do him some bodily harm.

Captured and Again Free.

A young man about twenty years of age, calling himself John Brooks, has called on us, and he is desirous to find the whereabouts of his mother, Elizabeth Brooks. He says he was captured about sixteen years ago, when a small boy, by the Sioux Indians, and carried away into captivity. His father was on his way to California and was killed, but his mother escaped. He remembers that he was John, his father Billy, and his mother Bettie Brooks. The young man is now living with George H. Randle, near Mexico, in this county. From information which he has derived, he supposes his mother to be somewhere in the State of Missouri. Any one having knowledge of Mrs. Elizabeth Brooks, answering to the circumstances in this description, will confer a great favor by communicating the facts.—Mexico (Mo.) Messenger.

THE CHINESE DOCTORS in San Francisco ship strange medicines home sometimes, and the practice of medicine in the Celestial Empire admits of queer doses. Among recent shipments, the Custom House officers found a coiled snake about four feet long, fanged, and with hideous head scales like a crest. How these animals are taken by patients of Chinese doctors is not known. One would be a fair dose if disguised in a coating of sugar. They may be taken in sections three times a day, as they are dessicated, or they may be boiled down or pulverized and taken in powder, or rolled into pills. Lizards are in nearly as great demand as the snakes. These also are dried and sent over in packages, together with hundreds of other loathsome things, all of which are consigned to the Chinese physicians, and used by them in their practice.

TRUSSES.

Every Kind of Trusses for the cure of Rupture may be obtained at Dr. Keyser's establishment, No. 167 Liberty street. It is a matter of the greatest consequence that all who are ruptured should be properly fitted with a suitable truss, and one that will keep the ruptured parts in their place. Many persons do not know when they are ruptured, and frequently years are allowed to pass by before anything is done.

This is a great error, and one that is often paid for at the expense of the person's life.

Rupture is too serious an injury to be treated with lightness or neglect, especially when the means for its relief and cure are so easily obtained. Children and young persons are easily cured, with the improved appliances which are constantly being added to the great variety which Dr Keyser always has on hand.

Medicinal Poisons on the Wane.

The patriarchs took no mercury, no bismuth, no iodine, no bromide of potassium, no strychnia, no quinine. Happy old gentlemen! they did not even know of the existence of these "specifics," and yet they lived until it seemed as if Death had forgotten them. Their medicines were herbs and roots. They have left this fact on record, and the world seems to be now taking note of it and returning to the first principles of medication. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the purest and most efficacious vegetable restorative of the day, is also the most popular. Thousands of persons who only a few years ago believed implicitly in all the poisons which figure in the pharmacopia, now pronounce this palatable tonic and alterative an all-sufficient remedy for dyspepsia, nervous debility, constipation, bilious complaints, headache, intermittent fevers, and all the ordinary disturbances of the stomach, the liver, the discharging organs and the brain. The time is not far distant, when most of the powerful and venomous drugs now so recklessly administered by practitioners of the "heroic" school, in cases that might easily be controlled by milder treatment, will be utterly discarded by all philosophical physicians. As it is, the thinking public, who are generally ahead of the professionals, have already put the dangerous preparations aside and adopted Hostetter's Bitters in their stead as a safe and excellent household medicine, adapted to almost every ailment except the organic and deadly contagious diseases. For more than twenty years this famous restorative and preventive has been annually strengthening its hold upon the public confidence, and now it takes the lead of every advertised medicine manufactured in this country.

This company was organized for the purpose of importing and distributing Teas and Coffees for one small profit, and it was started with a capital amply sufficient (half a million dollars) to carry into effect, in a thorough and complete manner, our well matured plans. Added to this large capital, we have many years' experience in importing, buying, testing, and selling Teas to all sections of the country. And, as we have business connections with all the principal ports in China and Japan, thus receiving our goods direct from place of growth, our customers are saved from all intermediate profits.
All our Teas are selected with reference to our trade, and graded to established standards, so that all orders can be duplicated as often as desired, with the certainty that the same flavors and qualities will be sent, and at the lowest prices at which the goods can be imported and sold.
We conduct our business upon the true commercial principle of ONE PRICE—ONE SMALL PROFIT—and buy and sell for CASH ONLY.
We think our Thea-Nectar is the best Tea in the market for general use, and for the quality it certainly is the cheapest. Thea-Nectar is the pure black Tea, with the Green Tea flavor. Wherever it has been introduced it gives the fullest satisfaction.
Our business title we have copyrighted as a Trade Mark, under the laws of the United States, and cannot allow any one to use it or infringe upon it.

DAILY GAZETTE.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
TUESDAY, August 13, 1872.

Financial matters occupy the same groove to-day that they have been running in for the past two months. Discounts are freely made by regular institutions, and the amount of good paper that reaches the hands of outside operators is extremely small. Capital is still on the increase, and the premonitions are that money will be plentier here by the 1st of October than it is now.

Money in the Eastern cities is abundant, with rates on time paper tending downward, whilst on call money is quoted as low as 3 per cent.

In local securities business is very quiet. Real estate is active, and the sales of this week bid fair to exceed in number those of the week past.

Gold is stiff at 115⅝. The imports continue increasing, and amounted in the port of New York to $9,254,668 last week. This, with what was received at other ports, will likely run the aggregate up to $12,000,000—probably the largest amount ever received in one week—in currency about $14,000,000. A continuance of such a flow of foreign goods to American ports cannot fail to increase the premium on gold.

NEW YORK, August 13, 1872.

Money easy at 2 to 3 per cent. Foreign exchange opened firm at 108¾, but afterwards quotations settled down to 108⅝. The occasion of this change in tone of the market was appearance of some borrowed bills on the street as well as increased supply of sterling drawn by some of the minor firms. Another reason for heaviness of sterling was the pressure of exchange on Amsterdam, which is quoted below par and very difficult to sell. The gold market was steady during this morning at 115⅝ to 115½, but became weaker in the afternoon, and declined to 114⅞@114¾. In the Gold Room the weakness of exchange on Amsterdam was assigned as a reason for the decline. Loans were 1@2 for carrying. Clearings $37,000,000. Treasury disbursements $30,000. State bonds generally quiet: Missouries heavy, offered at 93. Governments dull and steady. Stocks stronger at the opening; Western Union advanced to 72⅜, which caused a sympathetic rise of the balance of the list of ⅛ to ⅜ per cent., but afterwards Western Union fell off to 71⅞, and the general market lost the early improvement. In the afternoon Western Union rallied to 72⅜, and later ranged between 72 and 72¼. The balance of the market again sympathized with its course, and Western Union advanced ⅛ to 1⅜. In the upward movement the most prominent stocks were Northwestern common, Pacific Mail, Union Pacific, Rock Island, and C. C. & I. C. The late dealings showed a general reaction of ¼ to ¾ per cent. from the highest point of the day, with an unsettled market. Canton this afternoon broke down to 91, and afterwards rallied to 93. There was some stock sold out under the rule. The Adams Express Company has declared a dividend of two dollars per share, payable September 3d.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
TUESDAY August 13, 1872.

ASHES—Soda Ash is firm but quiet; it is worth nearly double what it was at this time last year. Pots steady at 10 cts; Pearls 11 cts.

BAGGING—Penn Mills two bushel, 38 cts; two half bushel, 45; three bushel, 52; Allegheny two bushel, 36.

BUTTER—Is coming freely, and the market is dull and stocks accumulating; prices, however, are without quotable change; 10 to 14 for common to fair, and 16@17 for prime to choice.

BEANS—$2,75@3,25 per bushel.

BROOM CORN—Is quiet and nominally unchanged, 5 to 8 cts, as to quality.

CHEESE—Is reported easier east, but there is no change in this market; 10½@11 for prime Dairy; 11½@12 for Factory and 12½@13 for Goshen.

COUNTRY LARD—Sales at 8@9 cts, as to quality.

CARBON OIL—Is still quoted at 19½@20 cts by the car load, and 2@3 cts additional for smaller lots.

CONCENTRATED LYE—$5,50 per case.

EGGS—Dealers do not agree in their reports of the egg market; some report that well-known brands are worth 16 to 17 cts, while others allege that it is difficult to obtain over 14. Old stock, and there is a good deal of this on the market, is hard to dispose of at any price.

FRUIT—Apples in good supply and dull, we cannot quote above $1,50@2 per bbl. Peaches, $1,25@1,50 per box. Pears, $2@2,50 per bbl. Plums, $3,50@4,50 per bushel. Watermelons, $10 to $15 per hundred.

FLOUR—We have to report a strong market and a very good trade, but there is no change to note in prices. Spring wheat flour $7,75 to $8,25; it is claimed that taking the price at the point of purchase as a basis, that choice Minnesota's should bring $8,50, and the indications, at this writing, are that that figure will soon be realized. Winter wheat flours are steady but unchanged; $8,50 for new, and $9 for choice old. Rye flour $5,25@$5,50. The receipts of spring wheat flours continue liberal, which is good evidence that the demand is steadily increasing.

GRAIN—There is a continued good demand for wheat, but millers are very "bearish" claiming that there is no margin at present prices; we are reported sales of new red at $1,65@1,75 as to quality and condition—sales of two cars fair old red at $1,75. The Chicago market, to use a common phrase, is booming; No. 2 seller August quoted at $1,54 yesterday—within about ten cents per bushel of what it was worth in New York the same day. However, the manipulations in that market have no direct influence on our market, as there is very little spring wheat used here, but there is no disputing the fact that it has its effect, though indirect it may be. Oats continue quiet and unchanged; sales at 40 to 41 for mixed, and 42 for white; trade generally reported dull. Shelled Corn is in limited supply in this market, but there does not seem to be much inquiry for it. Rye is quotable, nominally, at 75 to 80 cents.

GROCERIES—Trade continues quiet and the market is devoid of anything especially new or important. Late advices from the east report Sugar and Coffee quiet and unchanged, and the same is true of almost everything in this line. There has been a sharp falling off in country orders for some weeks past, which is nearly always the case during harvest time.

SUGARS—Granulated 13¼; Crushed 13¼; Powdered 13¼; "A" Coffee, 12; B, 11⅞; Extra C. 11¾; Circle C, 11¾; Chespeake Ex C 11¼; Knights, Ex C, 10¾; C. Yellow, 9¼.

COFFEE.—Fancy, 24½; prime, 23½, good, 22½; fair, 22; roasted, 26.

SYRUPS.—Fancy drips, 70; white; choice syraps, 65; good, 55; fair, 50; common, 35@40; blackstrap, 25.

MOLASSES—Stock of New Orleans almost exhausted: choice may be quoted at 85; prime, 80.

RICE.—Carolina, 9¼@9¾; Rangoon, 7¾@8; Patna, 8 to 8¼.

HAY—New hay sold from country wagons in Allegheny to-day, at $20 to $30 per ton, according to quality and condition. Old hay is very scarce, and may be quoted at $28 to $33.

LARD OIL.—No. 1 Extra is still quoted at 73 to 75 cts in a jobbing way.

ONIONS—Sales at $3,50 to $3,75 per bbl.

POTATOES—Quiet and unchanged; sales in small lots at $2@$2,50 per bbl.

POULTRY—Sales of spring chickens at 55 to 65 cts per pair, according to size.

PROVISIONS—Plain Shoulders, 8c; Sugar cured Shoulders, 11c; Breakfast Bacon, 12½c. Rib Sides, 9¾; Clear RibSides, 9¾; Clear Sides, 10¼c; Sugar Cured Hams, 16½c; Dried Beef, 20c. Lard, in tierces, 10c; half bbls, 10¼c; pails, 11¼c. Mess Pork, $15,50. Ham Sausage, 10c.

SEEDS—Timothy Seed is firm, and we now quote at $3,37½ per bushel to the trade and $3,62½ in smaller lots.

TALLOW—Unchanged at 8 to 8¼.

WHISKY—Highwines unchanged at 95@96 cts, in a jobbing way.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
TUESDAY, August 13, 1872.

The market for both crude and refined continues dull, and the former is considerably demoralized. It opened up at $3,40, then dropped to $3,25 and closed at about $3.30, equal to about eight and four sevenths of a cent per gallon here. It is probable that the failure, to which reference was made in our last issue, had something to do with demoralizing the market, but it commenced some weeks ago and has been in a depressed condition for some time past. Refined is also weak and drooping; spot quoted at 21¾; August, 21¾; September, 22½; October, 22¾; November, 23; sale 1,000 bbls August at 21¾. Oil barrels unchanged; $1,70 for country, and $1,78@$1,80 for city.

Increase in Movements of Breadstuffs.

The movements of breadstuffs at the various lake ports during the twelve months ending July 31, 1872, are largely in excess of the corresponding periods in the three proceeding years. The total crop movements, including receipts at the lake ports, from Aug. 1 to July 31, in each year, has been as follows, the flour having been reduced to its equivalent of grain: 1871-2, 171 423 289 bush.; 1870-71, 147,871,821; 1869-70 137,409,-090; 1868-69, 139,163,392. Here we have in round numbers an increase of 24,000,000 bush. in 1871-72, as compared with the preceding year; of 34,000,000 bush, as compared with 1869 and 1820, and 32,000,000 over the corresponding period in 1868-69.

The receipts at the lake ports for the four years ending Dec. 31 in each year were as follows, the total representing grain, and flour reduced to wheat: Receipts in 1871, 167,543,363 bush.; 1870, 133,955,667; 1869, 137,363,424, and in 1868, 122,435,017. The increase in 1871 over the preceding year was 34,000,000, and in 1869 and of 45,000,000 bush. as compared with 1868.

These returns show an increased activity in the grain trade at the lake ports which is likely to continue during the balance of the season. The bulk of the increase is in corn, the returns for obvious reasons showing a falling off in flour and wheat. Comparative tables to July 31, 1872, of the canal receipts at the head of tide water show an aggregate increase as compared with 1871, and a still more marked excess over 1870, notwithstanding the fact that navigation opened a month later this season than in the two preceding years.

Absolute Security!
OVER TEN PER CENT. INCOME.
ARKANSAS STATE LOAN.
A Limited Number Offered at 70 CENTS AND ACCRUED INTEREST.

These Bonds were issued under act of the Legislature for the purpose of assisting the "Arkansas Central Railway," in accordance with Section 6 of the Constitution of the State of Arkansas, which provides as follows: "The credit of the State or counties shall never be loaned for any purpose without the consent of the people thereof expressed through the ballot box," which act was submitted to the people at the general election held in November, 1868, and unanimously ratified by them. The Legislature of the State has no power to grant any additional aid whatever, consequently the debt of the State cannot be increased except by amending the Constitution through a vote of the whole people.

As an additional security, these Bonds are guaranteed by the Arkansas Central Railway by special indorsement, recorded as a mortgage in every county through which the line passes, acting as a direct lien upon the property of the Company, its Real Estate, Rolling Stock and Franchises.

It is recited in every bond: "The faith and credit of this State are hereby solemnly and irrevocably pledged for the payment of the interest and the redemption of the principal of this bond."

Every possible safeguard surrounds them to protect the holder from the dangers of corruption and fraud.

Unlike ordinary Railway Bonds, those now offered are negotiable at any time on the New York Stock Exchange, as will be observed from the daily stock quotations.

The Bonds are of the denominations of $1000 each, payable to bearer, and are therefore negotiable by simple delivery. The interest coupons attached to each bond are payable semi-annually at the office of the Union Trust Co., in New York, by the Treasurer of the State, on the 1st day of October and April in each year, until the principal of the Bonds are redeemed at par in 1898.

First Ward.

The First Ward Republicans held a meeting on Monday evening at the school. Over one hundred Republican voters were in attendance. After the organization of the club a subscription paper was opened for the purpose of equipping a marching club. Almost enough money was subscribed by those present to fully equip one hundred men ready for marching. Judging from the amount of enthusiasm shown, a good account will be given in October by this ward.

Attention, Grant Men!

By reference to our advertising columns on the first page it will be seen that Wilt's Upholstery, No. 92 Third avenue, managed by Ed. Wilt, has prepared themselves to furnish to Grant Clubs of Pittsburgh, Allegheny and surrounding counties Caps, Capes, Torches and Leggins at ten per cent. less than is charged at many other houses. Mr. Wilt will get them up in good style, and parties can rely on their orders being filled at once. Call and see him before purchasing.

Wooden Pavement Adopted.

The Wyckoff Pavement Company—a Pittsburg institution—has obtained a heavy contract from the borough of Temperanceville for this excellent wooden pavement. A committee of the borough Councils visited all the Eastern cities, and after thorough examination and inquiry finally adopted the Wyckoff. This pavement has been adopted to a large extent in other cities, and it seems destined to be the wooden pavement.

Gigantic.

A huge watermellon, weighing 36½ pounds, was presented to the GAZETTE office yesterday. The messenger who brought it could not inform us by whom it was sent. We are not the less grateful for the luscious monster because it was anonymous. We sent it to our composing room, where, notwithstanding its size, it was quickly devoured and greatly relished. We hope when another is sent the donor will let his name accompany it, that we may salute him as such good offices deserve.

Walker; No. 8 (Fayette) Mr. John McCandless. The schools will open on Monday, September 9th.

Arrested for Passing Counterfeit Money.

Yesterday afternoon detective Cupples arrested a man named Fred Stanley alias Niedrist Lennote, while in the act of passing a ten dollar counterfeit note of the Poughkeepsie issue, at the bar of the Red Lion Hotel. The defendant deposited one hundred dollars at the Masonic Bank, on Smithfield street, and among the bills was the note which he attempted to pass that afternoon, but it was thrown out by the clerk because it was counterfeit. The defendant is under arrest awaiting a hearing before the United States Commissioner.

Mistaken Identity.

Yesterday afternoon Lieutenant Hazen and Officer Kane arrested a girl at a house of ill-fame on Tenth street, who, it was thought, answered the description of a girl who is wanted in Baltimore. The daughter of a wealthy and respectable gentleman in Baltimore has been missing for some time and descriptions had been sent throughout the country with the offer of a reward of one thousand dollars for her return. The officers thought they had discovered the right person. When she was brought to the Mayor's office she denied that she was the person wanted, and as the Mayor had received no notification from Baltimore, and had no evidence that she was the person wanted, she was discharged.

City Improvements.

Pittsburgh has natural capabilities which, if rightly improved, will make it one of the most beautiful cities on the continent. It is drained by two noble rivers, and it is possessed of so much variety of landscape, that it only needs the appliances of art to become a wonder of beauty. Jerusalem that was "beautiful for situation," was not more eligibly located. This very fact leads to the belief that where organizations are formed, looking to the development of the city, will prove prosperous. It has been the case thus far, and will doubtless continue so in the future. For this reason, we are decidedly impressed that the Hamilton Hall and Cottage Association will not only prove a bublic benefactory but its stock is among the most reliable now offered. Call at 77 Fourth avenue, and learn the various eatures of the enterprise.

Second Ward Republican Meeting.

Last evening a meeting of the Grant and Wilson Club Marching Corps, at the school house, Dr. Addison Arthurs in the chair was held.

The report of the Committee on uniform was read and accepted.

On motion Captain John U. Gill was authorized to order the uniforms.

Dr. King reported that Wilkins' Hall could be obtained as a drilling room and the Executive Committee was authorized to obtain the same.

The following officers were elected for the marching corps:

John U. Gill, Captain; William Phillips, Jr., First Lieutenant; Louis Hager, First Sergeant; H. B. Crane, Second Sergeant; William Nums, Ensign.

The positions of Second Lieutenant and four Sergeants will be filled hereafter.

On motion adjourned.

Arrested for Forgery.

Yesterday morning a sewing machine agent named B. A. Newting, a resident of Cambria county, was arrested on the information of Samuel Powers, who charged him with forgery. The defendant has been the canvassing agent for the Wheeler & Wilson machine, and was assigned territory in Cambria and Clearfield counties. It is alleged that in last January he executed a lease for a sewing machine and signed the name of his cousin to the paper, and forwarded it to the office of the company in this city. It is also alleged that he wrote to the agents in his cousin's name, asking for an extension of the time of payment for the machine. The defendant states that he was indebted to his cousin and took that way of paying him. He says that his cousin knew of his course and approved of it. He had a partial hearing before Alderman Nicholson, and was held to bail in the sum of eight hundred dollars for a further hearing.

Petroleum as Used by the Indians in the Early Days.

The following account of the use of petroleum by the Indians for religious purposes in the early days of Pennsylvania we find in the Venango Spectator. It was written upwards of thirty years ago by either Judge Thompson or Rev. Cyrus Dickson, who then resided in Franklin:

The other use made of the oil was for religious worship. Here I cannot better describe it than in the imaginary languge of the commandant of Fort Duquesne to his Excellency General Montcalm, the unfortunate hero of Quebec. "I would desire" says the commandant, "to assure your Excellency, that this is a most delightful land. Some of the most astonishing natural wonders have been discovered by our people. While descending the Allegheny, fifteen leagues below the mouth of the Conewango, and three above Fort Venango, we were invited by the Chief of the Senecas to attend a religious ceremony of his tribe. We landed, drew up our canoes on a point where a small stream entered the river. The tribe appeared unusually solemn. We marched up the stream about half a league, where the company, a large band it appeared, had arrived some days before us. Gigantic hills begirt us on every side. The scene was really sublime. The great Chief then recited the conquests and heroism of their ancestors. The surface of the stream was covered with a thick scum, which bursts into a complete conflagration. The oil had been gathered and lighted with a torch or brand. At the sight of the flames the Indians gave forth a triumphant shout that made the hills and valley re-echo back again." Here, then, is revived again the story of the ancient fire-worshipers of the East. Here, then, are the children of the sun. The fame of these springs is greater in France and England than in America; greater in distant cities of the Union than in Franklin, only nine miles distant from them.

"BABE" MONTGOMERY SHOT.

Singular Accident.

Last night about ten o'clock a very singular accident occurred which may result fatally. It seems that a man named Montgomery, who is widely known as "Babe" Montgomery, was in a disorderly house on the corner of Webster avenue and Elm street, kept by a colored woman, when one of the occupants attempted to take a revolver from his pocket. From some cause the weapon exploded and the ball entered immediately below the left arm of Montgomery, severing the brachial artery. A physician was summoned and pronounced the wound dangerous, though not necessarily fatal, unless mortification sets in.

The victim "Babe" Montgomery is well known hereabouts as a notorious character. He is the son of a highly esteemed and prominent citizen of Washington county, and has already been in quite a number of affrays. A few years ago he was tried for murder, but was acquitted. He has led a wild, reckless life, but has thus far escaped, and among his associates numbers many strong friends.

THE SEPTEMBER CONVENTION.

Preparing to Entertain the Visitors—The Preliminary Arrangements—A Veteran Legion to be Organized—An Old Line Democrat Speaks out—The Programme as Thus far Completed.

Last evening a meeting of the soldiers and sailors of this county was held at the rooms of the Lincoln Club to make preparations for the reception and entertainment of comrades who will be present at the Soldiers' Convention in this city. The room was filled, nearly every district of the county being represented. The meeting was called to order by Col. John H. Stewart, who moved that General James S. Negley be called to the chair. This was unanimously approved, and the chair was occupied by the General.

The following list of other officers was then read:

Captain James B. Moore, General J. B. Sweitzer, Major A. P. Callow, Colonel James Schoonmaker, Colonel John H. Stewart, Colonel J. H. Hoffer, Colonel Sam Kilgore, Captain Sam Fulwood, Colonel N. M. Smith, Captain John H. Grayson, Major W. P. Hunker, Colonel John Snongrass, Major Robert Pollock, Major Foley, Captain M. M. Feiker, Major Hezlepp, Major J. F. Caldwell, Ensign Isaac J. McKinley, Major E. N. Pearson, Major Duncan McLain, Captain W. W. Tyson, Doctor D. W. Riggs, Captain W. L. Pettitt, Captain Hiram F. Callow, Colonel J. W. Ballentine, Colonel John C. Donaldson.

Secretaries—Captain W. P. Herbert, Captain G. W. Hill, Captain H. C. Mathias, Captain George W. Perkins, Captain Albert A. Gettys, Captain Penticost, Colonel T. F. Lehman.

General Pearson having been called upon to explain the object of the meeting said it had been called to make the preliminary arrangements for the reception of the soldiers who would pour in here from all parts of the country at the time of the Convention. From letters which he had received he was assured that an immense number of people would be here at that time. From all the cities come responses showing that hundreds, and in some cases thousands, with bands of music, would make up delegations. The aid and effort of all the soldiers in the county was needed to give their comrades a proper reception and furnish them with quarters. How this could best be done was the work before the meeting.

General Negley upon taking the chair said he was glad to see so many old soldiers assembled at the call. He appreciated the compliment which his old comrades had paid him in asking him to preside. He was especially glad to meet them here in an effort to contribute to the success of the party. It was right that the comrades of Sherman, Sheridan, Howard, Meade and Burnside, should contribute to the success of such a party. Disclaiming the attention of making a speech, he again thanked them for the honor conferred on him.

General Sweitzer then offered the following resolutions:

WHEREAS, It is contemplated to hold a National Convention of soldiers and sailors in this city on the 17th of September next; therefore

Resolved, That the soldiers and sailors of Allegheny county will extend to our comrades a soldiers welcome.

Resolved, That the reputation of our city for patriotism and hospitality to soldiers fairly earned in the past shall be maintained on the coming occasion, and that we earnestly appeal to our citizens to aid us with their means and their personal assistance to that purpose.

Resolved, That a committee be appointed to make the necessary arrangments with power to appoint such other committees as may be required.

After reading them he said that this Convention was a matter of great general interest. It would be a great job to entertain so many but it must be done and done handsomely. In a matter of such a general character it was right to make a general appeal and he knew it would not be made in vain. Upon the conclusion of these remarks, Col. Stewart moved that the resolutions be received and upon this being carried moved that the number of the committees provided for in the resolution be numbered to nine.

After some further discussion this was carried.

A long discussion then took place relative to the means that would be take to entertain the visitors. It was announced that it was not the intention to meet the expenses of those who come on the occasion, but that all would be provided with a place to sleep, and it was presumed many would be entertained at private houses.

Capt. Harper then offered the following resolutions as additional to those read by General Swilzer.

Resolved, That the Soldiers and Sailors of Allegheny county immediately proceed to organize a "Veteran Legion."

Resolved, That a committee be appointed for the purpose of superintending the work of organization, with power to appoint all necessary sub-committees, to prescribe titles and ranks of officers, designate uniforms, etc.

Resolved, That when organized, the Legion shall be under the control of the President of the Committee on the Soldiers' and Sailors' Convention for duty preparatory to and during the Convention, and at all other times shall be under the direction of the committee provided for in the second resolution.

The resolutions were unanimously adopted, and on motion of Captain Harper it was also adopted that the committee be the same as that appointed under the previous resolutions.

Col. Stewart moved that the committee be appointed by the originators of the resolution, General Sweitzer, the chairman of the Resident Committee, General Pearson, and the chairman of the meeting, General Negley. This was carried.

Captain Moore, one of the Vice Presidents of the meeting, was then called on for a speech. The gentleman responded by saying he had not expected to make a speech. All present knew that he had been a Democrat, an ardent Democrat for twenty-five years. That party had sold itself out to Greeley, but it could not sell him. He repudiated it and had made his choice to vote for Grant, Wilson and Hartranft. (Great cheering.

Mr. Slagle being seen among those present, was then called on for a speech, and replied that he had come down supposing the work was to be laid out. There was very little time to do it. The gentleman thought that whatever general preparations would be made, the successs of the thing depended upon the loyalty and generosity of the people of the city. At the previous convention the houses had been thrown open and they would be at this time.

It was announced that the committee would not be appointed until to-day, whereupon, after remarks from Mr. Jacob Rees, of the County Finance Committee, the meeting adjourned.

A PASTOR CHOSEN.

Meeting of the Second U. P. Church, Allegheny—The Third Attempt to Elect a Pastor Successful—The Rev. D. A. Wallace Chosen—A Harmonious Meeting.

Last evening another meeting—being the third of a series—was held by the members of the Second U. P. Church, Allegheny, for the purpose of electing a pastor to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of the late Rev. Col. Clark. There was quite a large attendance, about two-thirds of the whole membership being present, and great interest was manifested in the result, although harmony prevailed.

The meeting was organized at eight o'clock, Rev. J. H. Timmons, of Tarentum, presiding by special request. After the usual preliminary devotional exercises, the business of the evening was proceeded with. Rev. Dr. D. A. Wallace, President of Monmouth college, Illinois, and Rev. J. M. Johnston, of Parnassus, Armstrong county were put in nomination. At a previous meeting, when there were four candidates, (Dr. Wallace not being numbered among them) Rev. Mr. Johnston distanced his competitiors, but lacked one vote of a majority of the whole. His former opponents were dropped last evening and Dr. Wallace taken up.

Previous to the voting.

Mr. Martin, senior member of the Session, stated that a rumor had been circulated that Dr. Wallace would not come, but it was without authority. Dr. Wallace stood before them on the same footing as any other candidate. He had not asked to be elected, but there was no doubt he would come if a proper call was given.

The ballot was then taken—a proceeding which occupied about an hour. It was a noticable fact that the "down trodden" exercised the right of suffrage accorded them, with an enthusiasm that was refreshing and abundantly evidenced that the fair voters knew the value of a ballot. A large number of votes were also cast by proxy, which rendered the work of revising the returns a matter of some labor and very tedious. At length just as the clock struck eleven and a large part of the congregation had gone home, the result was announced: Wallace, 264; Johnson 248. A few inconsiderate persons, so far forgot the dignity of the occasion as to manifest a desire to applaud, but this breach of decorum was very quickly rebuked by general sentiment. After the result had been announced Mr Wm. Lockhart, who had voted in the minority, moved that the election be made unanimous.

Mr. W. H. Gill thought the motion out of order. He was in favor of it at the right time, but thought such a proceeding would be going beyond the purpose of the meeting.

The Chair ruled the motion out of order.

On motion of Mr. J. W. Kirker, the chair then appointed Messrs. W. H. Gill, John Dean and A. P. Burchfield a committee to wait upon Rev. Mr Witherspoon, who had been appointed by Presbytery to moderate the call, notify him of their action, and request his attendance at a meeting to be held next Tuesday evening, to complete the work.

The people accordingly were dismissed with the benediction and notified to attend next Tuesday.

Dr. Wallace is a gentleman about fifty years of age, and has the reputation of being one of the finest scholars and ablest men in the U. P. denomination. He has been very popular both in the pulpit and in social circles wherever he has labored, and the choice is looked upon generally as a good one. From the feeling last night we should judge that it will give general satisfaction. If he accepts the call, it is proposed to make him Professor of Pastoral Theology in the U. P. College in Allegheny—a chair that has never been filled since the death of Dr. Pressly. So anxious were his friends to have him that they agreed to pay his salary ($1,000) for filling the Professorship—one of them, Mr. John Dean, agreeing, it is said, to pay $500 for ten years toward that object.

The salary at the church we understand is $3,000, so that the monetary inducement is not insignificant. It is not known whether he will accept, but it has been currently reported that he said if the call was unanimous he would come.

COLORED VOTERS GATHERING.

Mass Meeting Last Night—Sumner Repudiated—A State Convention Talked of.

Last evening a mass meeting of colored voters was held in Baptist Hall, Park Way, Allegheny, under the supervision of the Central Grant Club. There was a very large attendance.

The meeting was called to order by the President, Rev. John W. Terry. On motion of Prof. Neale, the following additional Vice Presidents were appointed: Messrs. Fred. Wilson, B. F. Pulpress, Otho Snyder, Wm. B. Peterson, Jos. Mahoney, Rev. J. H. Brooks, of Ohio, and Moses Howard.

The President introduced the Rev. A. M. Milligan, of this city, who proceeded to address the meeting at some length. Mr. Milligan was frequently interrupted with applause, showing that his remarks were appreciated. At the conclusion of his remarks a vote of thanks was tendered him for his able address.

THE SUMNER RESOLUTIONS.

At the conclusion of Mr. Milligan's address, Prof. Neale offered the following resolutions, which were unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, In view of the deplorable apostacy of our great friend, Charles Sumner, who from being one of the honored leaders of the great party of human rights and human progress, has plunged headlong from his eminent position as an apostle of liberty, into the arms of those who are seeking to gain by strategy, what they lost by open conflict on the field of battle; and as many of our noble life-long friends, have alike fallen into the pestiferous snare set for them by those who are plotting against the nation's life, it becomes our duty to declare again, our fidelity to the old Republican party, and to solemnly

Resolve, That while we regard with grief the defection of many good men—Horace Greeley and Charles Sumner included—from the party that gave us freedom and the rights of men; while we still respect them, and believe that they would have continued true to the rights of colored men, but for the baleful influence of mad ambition and personal animosity, yet we cannot follow them outside of the camp. For us to do so would be moral treason to God and man.

Resolved, That the letter of Charles Sumner to the Committee of Colored Men, was as a shadow that came over us like the dark pall of night. The Historic Muse, that keeps ward and watch in the Temple of Fame, must now cover his Godlike statue with the veil of oblivion. "What private griefs he had, alas! we know not, that made him do it." He was our friend, faithful and just to us. He was our mighty man of eloquence and scholarly lore, whose deeds of heroism in behalf of our race far excelled the achievements of any man whose acts are recorded on the pages of history. He did not only help to free us, but elevated us to a seat besides him in the United States Senate. He has also abandoned those noble men, Henry Wilson, Morton, Conkling and others, who voted for and helped to give tone and prestige to his civil rights bill, and identified himself with those who opposed it. We thought him worthy of a human apotheosis, but he has departed from us. Let us pray that he may relinquish his present course so inimical to the party of progress, so unworthy of his noble past record, and return to the arms of the old radical Republican party.

Resolved, That we recognize in the colored Grant, Wilson and Hartranft clubs, now forming in Allegheny and other counties in Pennsylvania, efficient and powerful instrumentalities in keeping the men of our race loyal and true to their party obligations. The triumph of the Union or regular Republican party, demands our first consideration. All side issues, all questions of expediency, all controversy as to the relative merits of the several candidates should be buried. Principles not men, must be our watchword, and to vote the whole ticket, our sacred duty.

The President stated that a State Convention of the colored citizens of this State would meet in Harrisburg, and it was the object of this club to send on a delegate. He said that a collection would be lifted to defray his expenses, and he hoped all the Liberal Republicans would contribute. [Cries of "No Liberal Republicans are present."] The President said in reply that he did not use the word Liberal in a political sense, meaning Greeley Republicans, but the idea he wished to convey was that all present should contribute liberally. While the collection was being lifted "John Brown" was sung.

Addresses were now made by Mr. Fred. J. Loudin and the Rev. J. H. Brooks, of Akron, Ohio.

The last speaker of the evening was Professor Neale, who made a short but stirring address. He commenced by stating that thorough organization was essential to the success of their cause. He next referred to the resultant effects of the present political struggle should the Democratic party, under the specious guise of reform and Liberal Republicanism, regain power. The speaker deprecated any denunciation of Democrats as such. Many of them were kind, noble hearted men. It was their doctrine he opposed. Prof. Neale then referred to Horace Greeley's proposition to pay the so-called slave owners four hundred millions of dollars, and quoted his language: "Give the owner compensation. Fill up the bag to the brim. Who is the owner? The slave is owner, and ever was: pay him." He then quoted Horace Greeley's sectional letter:

There shall be no Federal supervision of the internal policy of the several States and municipalities, but each shall be left free to enforce the rights and promote the welfare of its inhabitants by such means as the judgment of its own people shall prescribe."

He closed by referring to his visit in the Oil regions and organizing colored Republican clubs in Crawford and Venango counties.

The meeting adjourned amid much enthusiasm.

COUNTY POLITICS.

Republican County Executive Committee—Regular Meeting Yesterday—The Reports from Colored Voters.

A regular weekly meeting of the County Republican Executive Committee was held yesterday at Headquarters, Lincoln Club rooms, President Gross in the chair.

Reports from various committees were heard in order and it appeared that everything was in working order.

Mr. Woodson reported the organization of seven marching clubs in Pittsburgh and that they would turn out on Thursday evening and escort Hon. S. Garfielde to Allegheny City.

Mr. Neale presented the following:

Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen of the Allegheny County Executive Committee: The Sub Committee of Organization, respectfully submit for your judicious consideration, the subjoined brief report: We have had, according to instructions from you, a satisfactory interview with the Chairman of the Committee on Organization, Mr. McBier, who enters fully into the spirit of our movements, &c., and gives it his endorsement. The North Side is organizing. Grant, Wilson and Hartranft clubs have been organized in the Second, Third, Fifth, Sixth and Seventh wards, as also in McClure township and Sewickley. The other wards are organizing and all will make semi-monthly reports to the Grant Central Club as to members, marching clubs equipments, &c. These reports will be published from time to time, by the Central County Committee.

B. L. Pulpress, P. J. Caperton, S. A. Neale, Sec'y of Committee.

Pittsburgh, August 13, 1872.

On motion of Mr. Montooth, a select committee composed of Messrs. R. B. Brown, Chairman; John Larrimer, Jenkin Jones, James Reed, Wm. Doyle, Hon. T. J. Bigham, and W. H. Barker, Esq., was appointed to make arrangements for the reception of Hon. Selucius Garfielde on the South Side on Saturday evening next.

This committee will meet at 2,631 Carson street, at 6:30 o'clock P. M. on Saturday.

Gen. Pearson, from the Committee on Arrangements for the Soldiers' and Sailors' Convention, reported everything progressing satisfactorily. That responses were being received from all parts of the country, and that the assemblage would be the largest ever gathered in this city. The only trouble would be the taking care of all, but he hoped citizens generally would come forward and tender hospitalities to the soldiers and sailors from abroad.

On motion, it was decided to appoint a committee of ten to act in conjunction with the Military Committee to make arrangements for the grand mass convention and torch-light procession, to be held at the time of the Soldiers' Convention. This committee will be announced hereafter.

POLITICS ON THE SOUTH SIDE.

An Enthusiastic Grant Meeting at Concordia Garden—South Side Republicans Wide Awake—The Laboring Men for Grant and Wilson.

A large crowd assembled at Concordia Garden, Twenty-sixth street, East Birmingham, last evening, to listen to the discussion of the political issues of the day. A brass band and the South Side Glee Club were in attendance and afforded music for the occasion. The intelligent working men of the South Side were largely represented, and the attention and the loud applause with which they greeted the speakers, gave evidence that they know the candidates who are really their friends.

Mr. C. D. O'Reilley called the meeting to order and nominated Squire August Ammon, who was elected President.

The following list of Vice Presidents were elected: Messrs. Robert Moore, Jenkin Jones, James Atkinson, G. W. Jones, John Wellinger, Frederick Nulty, Henry Rohrkaste, J. S. Schultz, F. Moirsch, R. E. Mercer, Mark Burke, F. W. Gessener, Wm. Bracey, L. Breakiron, Henry Matthews.

Secretaries—Reporters of the Press.

The President then introduced Mr. G. W. DeCamp who spoke for an hour and a half to an attentive audience. The Speaker reviewed the past record of the great Democratic party, and alluded to their inconsistency in adopting for their leader one who had been their life-long opponent. Mr. DeCamp then took up the charges which had been made against General Grant by Schurz and Sumner, and separately discussed and refuted them. He alluded to the record of General Hartranft, and paid a high compliment to the gallant soldier who had gone forth to do or die, while his opponent, Buckalew, had remained at home. The allusion to Hartranft's military record was received with loud and long applause.

After the speech of Mr. De Camp the crowd was favored with some excellent singing by the South Side Glee Club, under the leadership of Mr. Richard Prosser.

Mr. C. D. O'Reilly was then introduced as the "Great Irish Carpenter of the South Side." Mr. O'Reilly made a brief, though very eloquent and pointed address. He reviewed the acts and record of General Grant, and referred to some of the charges which Senator Sumner had made against him. He regretted the loss to the Republican party of Sumner, Schurz and Greeley, but thought that we could get along without them. In speaking of the Democratic party the speaker said he had always been taught to respect the dead. The party had been sold out at Baltimore; would be laid out in October, and buried in November.

At the close of his remarks the speaker proposed three cheers for Grant, Wilson and Hartranft, which were given with a will, and the meeting adjourned.

POLICE PARAGRAPHS.

AN old woman named Eliza McNutt was sent to the Work House for ninety days by the Mayor for drunkenness and vagrancy.

FOR drunkenness and disorderly conduct Michael Kennedy was yesterday sent to the Work House for thirty days by the Mayor.

BEFORE Alderman McMasters Andrew Harper charged Louis Mueller with keeping a disorderly house. The parties reside at Homewood. A warrant was issued for his arrest.

MICHAEL MALIAR made an information before Alderman McMasters, against Mike, Harry and Philip Kennedy, whom he charged with surety of the peace in threatening him with bodily harm. Warrants were issued for their arrest.

FOR drunkenness Catharine Williams was yesterday committed for sixty days. By special request, the Mayor sent her to jail instead of the Work House, in order that that institution might enjoy the honor of her company in the capacity of a "scrubbist."

WHILE Jack Showalter was in the lock-up in Birmingham, awaiting a hearing on a charge of stealing a pair of socks from a store, he received news of the death of his sister. Considerable sympathy was expressed for the prisoner, and the information was withdrawn and he was released.

YESTERDAY morning Dr. Jackson was sent to the Work House for ninety days by the Mayor, for drunkenness and disorderly conduct, and being a professional thief. In justice to the well-known citizen and military character we shall explain that it was not he, but a gentleman of Irish extraction.

A LETTER has been received from Steubenville saying that a horse and buggy has been found there, which are supposed to have been stolen in this vicinity. Yesterday morning a man from Freeport came into the Mayor's office enquiring for a horse and buggy which had been stolen from him. He left with an officer for Steubenville to examine the stolen property.

EDWARD SHEPHARD arrived in Pittsburgh a few days ago impressed with the magnitude of the business of this city. He was more than ever convinced of that when he was arrested and placed in the lock-up for breaking a handsome pane of glass in Stulin's painting establishment on Seventh avenue. Yesterday morning he was sent to the Work House for thirty days.

Carriages and Buggies.

We are glad that we are enabled to chronicle the success of a home manufacturing firm, in its competition with eastern workmen. When Messrs. Workman & Davis entered the lists many doubted their ability to produce an article that would equal those of eastern manufacture. But after they had shown what they could do, and their carriages and buggies and other manufactures were fairly put upon the market, this doubt gave way to pleasure and satisfaction among all who could appreciate home enterprise. Especially was the gratification complete among advertisers when they found they could purchase the carriages, etc., just as well made as those of the East, not inferior either in finish, and yet at a lower price—an actual saving of money, and the vexation of having to wait until an order could be sent East and the desired vehicle shipped. These manufactures of Messrs. Workman & Davis have now gained a first-class reputation, and they well merit it—a fact which will be duly impressed upon the minds of all who call at the bazaar, Nos. 167, 169 and 171 Penn avenue.
